Nixon Pictured as Shrewdly Getting Russia, China to Help Bring About What U.S. Wants

"President Nixon has been the first President since Dwight D. Eisenhower to evaluate our national interest in Southeast Asia—and determine that there isn't any," Prof. Kenneth P. Landon said here Tuesday.

Prof. Landon appeared at the Southwestern campus of Southern Illinois University as a speaker for the Asian Studies program. He is a consultant to the U. S. State Department on Southeast Asia.

Landon was critical of what he said was the failure of Presidents John F. Kennedy and Lyndon B. Johnson to re-evaluate our role in Southeast Asia. His remarks were entitled "U. S. Policy Toward Southeast Asia."

He applauded what he considers the successful effort of President Nixon to "set the major world powers — and the Third World powers — in motion," enabling the U. S. role in Vietnam to become "a parochial issue."

This, Landon said, enables the President to reconcile our national interest with our commitment by "removing all militarily significant troops from Vietnam by next July."

Characterizing the President as "unpopular because he is not charismatic," Landon said he has been forced to be judged on the basis of his accomplishments. Landon praised his "shrewd diplomatic maneuvers."

"What the President has done," Landon said, "is to force Russia and China and the smaller states to reevaluate their world positions."

He used Japan as an example. The President's economic policy "knocked Japan's economy off its pins."

Japan suddenly became "loose, unaligned, because she was no longer a satellite of Washington." The international effect of this unsettling, he explained, has been to cause the governments of the world to take a hard look at their own interests.

In Vietnam, he said, this has already resulted in Chinese and Russian reexaminations of their interest in Hanoi. In essence, he argued, the President has given the large Communist governments "something bigger to worry about than Hanoi."

Landon has studied Southeast Asia since he was stationed there as a missionary in 1927. He has written numerous scholarly books and articles on the area, and has advised the federal government on the area since before the second World War.

He was the first professional employee of the Office of Coordinator of Information in 1941, which evolved through the Office of Strategic Services (OSS) to the present Central Intelligence Agency (CIA).

He is currently a professor of Asian Studies at the American University in Washington, D.C., and an editor of the journal, "Southeast Asia, an International Quarterly." He is engaged in research on the topic, "Southeast Asia and Japan's New Co-Prosperity Sphere, 1970."

County in Final 'Big Board' Year

By MARION BARTOSIAK

Press-Record Staff Writer

The Madison County government opened its new fiscal year yesterday — the year in which it will change governing boards in mid-stream. It plans to spend a record amount of money with an appropriation totaling $10,622,785.

The new budget, up $3,222,986 over that of last year, calls for the highest taxes ever levied for county purposes, a total of $3,400,593, or $2,164.690 over that of last year.

Nelson Hagnauer, Granite City Township supervisor and chairman of the finance committee of the Board of Supervisors, has explained that major causes for the increase are changes in county government imposed by the new Illinois Constitution, the high cost of "law and order," a 5% across-the-board salary increase for county employees and four elections necessitated by the "action or inaction" of the state Legislature.

The new year will mark the change in the makeup of the county board from a representative township system to a district plan, to take effect on May 1.

With the change, the number of board members will decrease from 49 to 25, but the budget calls for an increase in per diem and mileage from $142,000 to $160,000, plus a salary of $833 for the chairman.

Hagnauer currently is deemed as the front-runner for the chairmanship to succeed Harold Landolt of Alhambra Township, who is not running for election in the new district system.

Budget increases are now in AFRICAN TOUR souvenirs were viewed Tuesday by the Women's Missionary Group of Calvary Baptist Church. Miss Alice Purdes, director of music at the Venice schools, displays artifacts brought back from her trip, including a native instrument, the Crar, which she is holding. Also shown are a lizard-skin-covered Konzo Ekinanga, a tube fiddle, an ostrich egg which could feed 12 persons, hand-carved bookends, a flywheel, a miniature Massi warrior figure and the skin of a Springbok. The hut is a replica of the Rondabel huts in Africa which sheltered Miss Purdes during much of her three-month tour.

Degree of Dust in Air Assailed

Granite City and Illinois are making progress in remedying air pollution but they still have a considerable distance to go, the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency said Wednesday.

An EPA report on particulate matter—soot, smoke, dust and flyash—showed an average reading at 21st and Iowa Streets of 194 micrograms for every cubic meter of air. A federally-set maximum allowable average is 75.

The figure of 194 micrograms is topped in the state only by an average reading of 205 at Chicago Heights.

Other high reading listed were the City Hall in Granite City, 134 on an annual average; Venice City Hall, 119; Wood River City Hall, 116; Wood River Water treatment plant, 115; and East St. Louis City Hall, 112.

Of the 20 sampling station sites with the highest particulate readings, there were the six just mentioned in Madison, St. Clair Counties, nine in the Chicago area and two in Peoria.

The information was part of a thick report outlining air sampling results throughout the state during the last several years.

The report saw hopeful signs and commented, "Compared to 1969, suspended particulates showed a reduction at 50 sites, no change at eight and an increase at 15 sites."

Data for sulfation, a measure of sulfur dioxide and other sulfur compounds, in the air, showed this region has seven of the ten highest reading stations—those at Sauget, Granite City, East St. Louis, Brooklyn, Wood River, Roxana and East Alton.

The report said the Madison, St. Clair counties area has had a steady decrease in particulate concentrations and sulfation. The improvement since 1968 is charted as 21%.

Cleanest air is at Crystal Lake, northeast of Chicago, where the average dirt per meter of air is 35 micrograms. The next nine cleanest, in order, are Lake Bluff, Downers Grove, Palatine, Winnetka, Monee, Rockford, Niles, Flossmoor and Wilmette.

Plush New Restaurant In Operation

By VALERIE EVDEN

Press-Record Staff Writer

Lustrous dark walnut tables were getting the last flick of a dustcloth. An occasional playing sound originated from a machine far too elaborate to call a juke box.

An electrician forged noisily beneath a baseboard. The clink of pots and pans could be heard from the kitchen area. None of the sounds, nor the scurrying back and forth of an unbroken chain of people, could detract from the overall splendor of Charlie's Restaurant as final preparations were in full swing late Tuesday for yesterday's opening.

The former Rose Bowl at Nameoki Road and Madison Avenue is now officially named Charlie's Restaurant and Cocktail Lounge, but undoubtedly destined to be known simply as "Charlie's," opened Wednesday to a capacity crowd, all anxious to inspect the rebuilt facilities. It had been nearly destroyed by fire last summer.

The first-day customers, however, were not exactly the restaurant's first arrivals. Added to 20 or 30 workmen and staff members rendering the last minute touches Tuesday were visitors whose natural curiosity drew them to the facility "just to look around."

Artistic Decor

Their curiosity was justifiable. Already stories could be heard that Charlie's was more than just a restaurant, that it was the epitome of artistic and opulent endeavor rivaling the most luxurious and prestigious dining places in the entire metropolitan region. It is.

Despite a hectic schedule, and with little time to spare, Charles Hester, the owner-operator, who each called a few moments and was rewarded with lavish praise for his new establishment.

The unique exterior of sandstone brick and lava stone, the latter obtained from New Mexico and Arizona, is accented with double doors of deep red with antique iron handles.

Ground Level Entrance

Patrons enter the building at ground level, at either the dining room area (south side) or the lounge, a convenience which eliminates the need to walk down a flight of steps into the restaurant.

A total look is created by red and black, patterned carpet throughout the building. The walls are covered with cork, ranging in shades from beige and nutmeg to deep charcoal-brown.

Among the major changes that patrons found was an expanded dining-lounge area at the Nameoki Road end of the structure.

Arranged in a two-tiered terrace layout, the new section, seating more than 70 customers, serves a dual purpose by en-have climbed upward from 89% to 88%, and contributions are still being accepted at the U.F. office. Additional contacts are being made in some divisions of the state.

The U.F. has received names of persons interested in the local executive director position from the United Fund Council of America, President George Becker reports. Interviews will be held with applicants to replace the late David Norton.

The Granite City post office will not be open this Saturday. But it will operate from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. on both Dec. 11 and Dec. 18. Its stations will be open from 8:30 a.m. to noon Dec. 11 and 18.

The Dec. 13-17 window hours will be 8 a.m.-5:30 p.m., with regular 8:30-5 hours on Dec. 20-24.

Madison and Venice post offices will be open Dec. 11 and 18 from 8:30 a.m. to noon for purchase of stamps and mailing of packages only.

The U. S. Senate on Wednesday directed payment of previously negotiated pay raises retroactive to the period of the 90-day freeze, mid-August to mid-November. President Nixon indicated he will go along with the retroactive pay benefit.

Programs for 1972 will be outlined and officers will be elected at a quarterly meeting Dec. 9 of the Southwestern Illinois Metropolitan Area Planning Commission.

The 6:30 p.m. dinner at Fischer's restaurant, Belleville, will include a talk on "Pro-

Henn Elected Commissioner

Dr. Merrill Ottewill of Edwardsville was re-elected as president and G. Rollin Henn of Granite City, immediate past president, was elected as commissioner of the Cahokia Mound Council, Boy Scouts of America, here Monday night.

Melvin L. Gillie of Granite City, manager of the W. T. Grant Co. store, was elected as a vice-president of the council, succeeding Howard Kaseberg of Granite City.

Officers re-elected included Robert Simon of Edwardsville and Dr. Carl Rogers of Highland, vice-presidents, and Allen L. Jesse, Granite City bank executive, council treasurer.

The annual business meeting of the council was held at Niederrhein United Methodist Church.

Henn, 2837 Washington Ave., is a veteran scoutmaster. The commissioner serves as the chief link between pack, troop and post leaders and the council executive board.

Hospital Wall Reinforcement Nearly Complete

"Exterior brick work on the new wing of St. Elizabeth Hospital should be completed by Christmas, two weeks earlier than the previously projected finish date, providing the mild weather continues," Arthur Schoenebeck, chairman of the building committee, said today.

This necessary reinforcement of the north and south walls of the new wing insures that the new construction will withstand more-than-normal stress; it exceeds all building code requirements, said today.

The work now being completed on the exterior will preclude costly and continuous maintenance over the next years and is a wise move from an economic standpoint.

Schoenebeck concluded that the new construction will be completed shortly.

Housekeeping and maintenance crews are cleaning the fourth floor, which is a medical-surgical area. This will allow patient occupancy there before the end of the year.

Furniture and equipment is being moved now to floors three and four.

The third floor salarium,

Wheelchair for Tom Hooks Donated to Venice Council

A wheelchair and a walker were donated by the Venice Women's Democratic Club to the Venice City Council at the council's regular meeting Tuesday night and the council decided to provide the wheelchair to Tom Hooks, a Venice explorer who was paralyzed in a diving accident June 4.

Mrs. Dianna Sherrills, president of the club, and Mrs. Zelma Hart, club trustee, presented the walker to Venice Mayor John E. Lee and William "Mike" Ebersold, city clerk, in a short ceremony during the meeting. They said the wheelchair had been ordered and was due to arrive this week.

The youth, second vice-president of Post 10-4, sponsored by the Madison Lions Club and Madison police, was injured while attending the national Boy Scout explorer conference in Washington, D.C.

Since the accident, he has been confined to bed and a hospital wheelchair. He is a patient at Jewish Hospital, St. Louis, where he undergoes four hours of physical and occupational therapy each week, returning home on weekends.

On the first, second and fourth Wednesdays of each month he is taken from the hospital by fellow explorers for post meetings and is returned after each meeting.

The Walker will be kept at City Hall until the council determines to whom it will be donated.

In other business the council approved an annual contract with the state for use of $30,000 in motor fuel taxes for maintenance of arterial streets and alleys.

Carl Byrnes, controller, informed the council that the Church Group Studies Africa

Members of the Women's Missionary Group of Calvary Baptist Church were whisked away for a brief tour of Africa Tuesday night as Miss Alice Purdes, director of music for the Venice schools, gave a presentation on her recent visit to that country.

She spent three months in East and Central Africa, studying the natives and the country as part of the work for her doctorate degree at Florida State University.

She collected native instruments, carvings, figurines and artifacts which she displayed to the church group.

She said missionaries in Africa are working hard to bring about much-needed changes in the life styles of the natives and that the progress being made is quite apparent.

"Change is taking place fast and furiously," she said. "Missionaries there are accomplishing miracles and they need our continued support. If we do not help the people there, the Communists will," she related.

She presented numerous slides narrated by a tape recording which she had made. The recording contains her descriptions of the country and people as she plays native music on African instruments in the background.

Among the artifacts displayed was a six-inch-tall carving of a Massi warrior given to her when she was made an honorary member of the tribe near Kenya. She lived in a grass hut called a Rondabel during her visit.

"The huts are round so that evil spirits cannot hide in the corners," she explained.

She displayed a Crar, a type of harp from Ethiopia; a Kinzo Kikanga, a stringed instrument covered in lizard skin; a zebra skin covered drum; and a tube fiddle which resembled an enormous smoking pipe. Numerous figurines were shown, including that of a warrior in full battle dress. Also displayed were hand-carved boobies, plus decorations and skins from several African animals, including a black, brown and white Springbok.

Following the program, the women's group studied the book, "New Drums Over Africa."

The meeting marked the start of the church's annual week of prayer for foreign missions. The church is collecting funds during the week for the Little Moon Christmas mission offering.

SHIRTS INSPIRED BY YOUR GRANDMOTHER

THE EMBROIDERY COLLECTION... By ARROW

Granny knew a thing or two about the good things in life. Like a really fine shirt. That lasted, because of the way it was made. That looked ultra-special, because it had that distinguished embroidery look. Arrow has taken her good taste and brought it up to date. Via magni-collars, higher neckbands, latest cuff treatments, tapered toros. And boy are these shirts selling! Maybe it's because granny's grandsons (and granddaughters) also know a thing or two about a fine shirt. $9.00

Warrior Kickers Refashion School's Soccer Records

By GARY SCHNEIDER
Press-Record Staff Writer

Coach John Sellmeyer's Granite City High School Warrior soccer team established several new school records during the season which ended last week.

The team earned the coveted "undefeated" title this year, winning 19 games, including 10 shutouts, and being tied only once during the season (by Wartfield High School of St. Louis County 2-2 Nov. 19). Last year's squad recorded 12 wins, one loss and four ties.

The undefeated record will win the squad's photograph a permanent spot in the high school gymnasium and will set a goal for subsequent Warrior soccer teams. Among the other records set was an unprecedented 84 goals during the season, surpassing the 59 goals scored last year.

While compiling the total, the Warriors maintained their defensive strength, allowing only 12 points. Only three teams were able to score two goals against the Warriors in a game—Gibault, Jacksonville and Whitfield.

Twelve senior players, four juniors and a sophomore earned their letters during the season, leaving a relatively new squad to defend the record next year. Two Warriors from the starting lineup will return next year—Carl Dake, outside right, and Randy Worthen, inside right. Other junior lettermen who may be expected to lead the squad next year are Andy Baugh, halfback, and Phil Hill.

Among those who will be lost at graduation is the team's leading scorer, Bill Bronnhauer, inside left, who was credited with 16 goals and 14 assists during the season for 46 soccer points.

Second in the scoring was Jim Conway, outside left, with 15 goals and six assists for 36 points. Worthen was third with 34 points on 12 goals and 10 assists and Jerry Duncan, left halfback, was fourth with nine goals and 10 assists for 28 points.

Others With Points

Others accumulating points were: Dake, 11 goals, five assists, 27 points; Jim Forrester, was turned into an unusual point.

Those who competed on the varsity level this year but earned no points were senior Mark Speer, juniors Andy Baugh and Phil Hill and sophomores Pete Mushill, Bill Schnefke, Marc Whaley, Brad Bickhaus, Charles Clark, Mike Fry, Ted Geggus, John Harding, Jeff Larner and goalie Mike Demaree.

Team Captains

Co-captains of the squad were John Conway, Duncan and Forrester while Burdge served as assistant captain. Arnold Meyer and Robert Keeney were team managers.

The year was the first for the soccer coach as Sellmeyer is a Spanish teacher at the high school. Tom Wyrostek and Stan Weick, last year's coaches switched to the school's football team as assistant coaches.

"I knew they could go undefeated if they applied themselves, and with the exception of a few games they applied themselves very well this season," Sellmeyer commented.

Asked if there is a possibility that in future years winning teams here could compete in competition to determine a state champion, Sellmeyer commented, "There has been talk of establishing competition

Red Devils Take Opener, Defeat Columbia by 71-64

The Venice Red Devils, under the leadership of Coach Bill Ohlendorf, started off the 1971-72 season Tuesday night with a home court victory over Columbia 71-64.

"It was really a typical opening game," Ohlendorf said, "We played decent ball in spots and made the usual opening season mistakes. All in all things went well, for a relatively inexperienced club. We led the whole game, which always makes me happy."

Venice took the lead and held it with a 19-12 score at the first quarter and increased the lead to 37-26 at half time. Columbia out-scored the Red Devils in both the third and fourth quarters 15-14 and 23-20, but not enough to change the outcome. Jim Ohlendorf led Venice as he tallied 26 points. Other Devils scoring were Ron Henry 19, Dan Maurer 14, Algie Smith 9, and Ray Verdu 3.

Columbia led in the foul department 20-19. Smith fouled out with about one minute to go in the fourth quarter. The Devils did well at the charity line, sinking 17 out of 25. Venice hit 40% from the floor and dominated the backboard 39-25 in rebounds. Venice takes to the road Friday to play Bunker Hill. Game time is 8:15 p.m., with a junior varsity game at 6:30 p.m.

Warrior Matmen Down Alton By Record Score of 60-3

The Warrior wrestlers of Granite City High School easily controlled their Alton High School opponents in a dual meet at Alton Tuesday afternoon, winning 60 to 3.

The 60 points collected set a new school record, partially due to a rules change this season which allows six team points for each pin rather than the five allotted per fall last season. Other scoring is four top form won 49-12. Winners by falls and their times were Rudy Pyle (98) 1:16, Brian Willis (112) 1:26, Dan Heath (128) 1:59, Mike Hollis (132) 1:17, and Ken Nolan (145) 3:03.

Decision winners for the junior varsity wrestlers included Don Death (119) 4:0, Dave Ruebhausen (138) 8:0, John Avedasian (167) 5:0 and John McMillan (heavyweight) 12:2.

Pat McMillan (105) earned a forfeit while the Warriors were forced to forfeit the 155 and 180-pound class matches.

The varsity and junior varsity squads will host Christian Brothers College of St. Louis at 7 p.m. tomorrow. CBC Coach Gus Schalkham knows Warrior Coach Bill "Red" Schmitt's moves, having wrestled for the Warriors and the coach in 1969.

Another challenge will be Joe Gasparovic, a Granite City resident who attends CBC and will wrestle for them tomorrow.

The varsity squad will travel to Decatur Eisenhower Saturday for a double dual with the hosts and Bloomington.

Triad Tramples Trojans In Cage Opener by 75-62

The Madison High School basketball Trojans were trampled at Triad 75-62 in their opening cage tilt of the season Tuesday.

The Trojans all but stood still the first quarter, permitting Triad to take an 18-6 lead. MHS started to play half in the second quarter and outscored Triad 19-14. Triad opened up again in the third quarter and went into the final period with an advantage of 54-40. The Trojans again outscored Triad 22-21, but it wasn't enough.

Trojan Terrance Young led the team with 20 points and with a 6-4 height dominated the backboards, snagging 16 rebounds. Triad's high point man was Randy Droy who bucketed 21 points.

Other Trojans scoring were Ed Chandler 16, Vernell Glassper 9, Emory Wilson 8, Roger Glassper 3, Jay Greer 3, and Sam Bird 1.

From the charity line Vernell Jay Greer, a promising junior transfer student, was three-for-three.

Madison had a foul disadvantage of 23 to 19, with Wilson taking the walk in the fourth quarter.

"That first quarter, when we only scored six points, killed us," Coach Larry Graham said. "We just did not get moving. While we were standing around trying to feel them out, they were shooting baskets. We took only five shots the whole first quarter."

"Our defense is real good, but we need real improvement in the offense. We just have not yet got any real offensive punch yet. Our rebounding is a weak also."

The Trojans will meet McKinley Friday at St. Louis. The varsity game begins at 8:30 p.m., and a junior varsity game at 6:30 p.m.

BOY SCOUT BAGS BUCK. Thomas Aldridge, 13, of Boy Scout Troop 41 of Mitchell, with a 165-pound field-dressed buck he bagged in Southern Illinois while hunting with his father, James C. Aldridge. The scout, who has a merit badge in shooting, brought the deer down with his 20 gauge shotgun. It was his first deer hunting trip.

Warriors Halt Mater Dei Comeback for 78-73 Victory

The Granite City High School basketball Warriors narrowly gained their second victory of the young season, defeating Breeze Mater Dei 78-73, Tuesday night before a home crowd of fans.

The Warriors, showing winning ways in their first two outings, took a first quarter lead 24-13, stretched it to 45-33 and continued at an even pace as it was 66-53 going into the fourth quarter.

But then Mater Dei's Knights got hot, outscoring the Warriors 20-12 in the final stanza, and nearly overtook the winners at a 72-71 stage of the game.

Mater Dei's Kellerman, 6-5 forward, took scoring honors with 28 points, followed by Warrior Terry Ripka with 25. The Knights kept an aggressive man-to-man defense on Ripka.

who managed 19 points in the first half.

Other Warriors scoring were Joe Wallace 21, Chuck Kraus 14, Kevin Dyer 9, Bob Wiggins 7 and Mike Martinez 2.

The Warriors committed 24 fouls to 12 for the Knights. Dyer and Wiggins both fouled out in the fourth quarter, and the other three Warrior starters had four each called.

The two teams broke even on rebounds with 30 each.

"Joe Wallace did a real good job, hitting better than 30% from the floor and quarterbacking for us," Coach Don Detering said. "So did Chuck Kraus who hit seven for 11. We still must learn to handle pressure and improve our rebounding."

"Mater Dei was perhaps the biggest club we will face this season," the coach added. "I have been particularly pleased with the fans this year. We had a packed house for our opener and a real good crowd Tuesday. Having people cheering for you does a lot to help a team win."

The Warriors play their first Southwest Conference game at Collinsville Friday at Collinsville, Mo. 11, may have one of the stronger teams in the league this season. The Hawks have their entire squad back from last year.

Game time is 8:15 p.m., with the junior varsity playing at 6:30 p.m.

Cougar Cagers Hone on JVs 101-81

Coach Jim Dudley's Southern Illinois University-Southwestern basketball team warmed up Monday night for its rugged 1971-72 season with a convincing 101-81 victory over the Cougar junior varsity.

The Cougars open their 26-game schedule Saturday night on the road at Rolla, Mo., against the University of Missouri Miners of Coach Billy Key. The miners and Cougars each own a victory over the other in the last two seasons, with SU-SW winning last year's meeting, 94-85.

Dudley was mildly pleased with his regulars' performance against the JVs. "At one point there early in the second half, the fellows put it together, didn't they," he said.

The Cougars' starting five which took the floor had three familiar faces, center Gene Bounds, still a slender 6-8, but going to the basket with more determination than last season;

and forward Jerry Bloomer, and 6-3 guard, Denny Threngburg, the sharp shooter.

Looking impressive were Tony Johnson and Sam Holmes, two newcomers from junior college ranks. Johnson, who led all scorers with 25 points, appears to have solved Dudley's problem of finding a replacement for the graduated Rich Easton, last season's leading scorer and floor general.

In Saturday's opener at Rolla, the Cougars will face a squad with eight veteran lettermen back: Keith Davidson, 6-8; Eric Gredell, 6-3; Tommy Noel, 6-5; Rodney LeGrand, 6-9; Rex Medlock, 6-9; Rich Peters, 6-8; Eric Potts, 5-10, and Rod Sandhaus, 6-5.

SU-SW will open its home season Tuesday night with Northeast Missouri State furnishing the opposition. In three seasons, the Cougars have yet to beat Northeast. Two nights later, the University of Wisconsin, Milwaukee, will be at Edwardsville. Dudley's charges lost twice to Wisconsin last season.

Condition of the field is excellent, and barring a deep snow, could provide the locale for a hard-played game.

Both clubs are at top strength with only minor injuries on each squad.

Coach Harry Hooker reports his SU-Bills are ready, and Guelker says his Cougars are ready to go. Judging from the last two meetings of the

Cougars, Bills to Face Off for Midwest Title

Tension mounted this week on the Southern Illinois University-Southwestern campus as Coach Bob Guelker prepared his Cougar kickers for the Midwest NCAA soccer finale against St. Louis University at 1:30 p.m. Saturday at Cougar Field.

More than 10,000 fans are expected to cram the field as seats are available for about 5,000. 2,000 more can be crowded on bleachers and another 3,000 to 4,000 are expected to arrive tickets went on sale yesterday at both schools and are $1 for students with ID cards and $2 for adults. Parking (free) is available for 5,000 within a quarter of a mile from the field.

The talk all week on the SU-SW campus revolved around the question: "Can the Bills make it three in a row over the Cougars?"

The Bills are currently ranked as the top team in the nation, and the Cougars have been ranked as high as fifth during the season.

The winner of Saturday's game will advance to the NCAA finals during the week of the Orange Bowl Dec. 28 and 30 at Miami. The Billikins won the national championship last year.

schools, it should be a tremendous game.

In last season's Midwest regional finale, the Bills roared from behind to catch the Cougars 2-1 after SU-SW had led for 80 of the game's 88 minutes.

During the past season, a "header" by John Caranza in the first half had given the Cougars the lead, but lightning struck again in the last seven minutes when the Bills' Dan Counce tied it and Mike Seery sewed it up.

Contemporary Collage
Crushed velvet drapes in red and white are used in the dining room, which is illuminated with brass chandeliers and concealed lighting.

The walls of the terrace section are accented with contemporary panels, a series of collages—the work of artist Genia Gray of St. Louis, who combined brown and black cubes, mimosa branches and splashes of color to create the unusual effect.

Miss Gray also painted an acrylic mural in subdued browns, yellows and oranges, reminiscent of a desert landscape, which fills one wall in a private dining room situated at the rear of the lounge.

A red tile floor, sturdy, dark nungum furniture and hanging lamps—with independent intensity control from brilliant to dim—complete the room's decor.

SIU Pay Hikes Are Approved

Salary increases of $1,650,000 were approved at Terre Haute, Ind., Tuesday night by the executive committee of the Southern Illinois University board of trustees. Effective Dec. 1, the adjustments are for the remaining seven months in the current fiscal year.

The action was authorized by the board Nov. 19, pending a legislative appropriation and conversion of other funds to the personal services account.

The committee met following an executive session of the board in the afternoon. Board Chairman Harold R. Fischer of Granite City said the special meeting was called for the discussion of personnel matters that it was held in Terre Haute because it was convenient for those who could attend. A chancellor is being sought for the Carbondale campus.

The board also approved merit and equalization salary increases for faculty, administrators and most civil service personnel. Persons not covered are subject to prevailing wage agreements and negotiated contracts.

Fischer said the adjustments are within the policies and guidelines established by the federal Pay Board and the Cost of Living Council.

Members of the executive committee are Fischer, Dr. Martin Van Brown, board secretary, of Carbondale, and William W. Allen of Bloomington.

CHRISTMAS PROGRAM FOR TEMPERANCE UNION

A Christmas program has been planned for a meeting at 7:30 p.m. Friday of the Wm. Christian Temperance Union to be held in the home of Mrs. Bethel J. Davis, 2148 State St. All members and honorary members are invited to attend.

With the arrival of live lobster, the content of the menu remains relatively the same. But the kitchen hours have been extended, with patrons able to order food dishes up to 3 a.m.

Another major change is in the lounge where a shortened bar of old brandy, which still seats 12 customers, is now situated at an angle across one corner.

Lounge Is New
A totally new aspect is a grouping of three high-rise, quick-service bars, arranged with seating for four persons and located along the north wall of the lounge. Intimate booths, upholstered in black leather, work and each seating two people, are against the opposite wall.

Walnut tables in the lounge are hinged and folded and can be expanded to accommodate up to seven patrons. Comfortable swivel chairs are upholstered in black hocking. Antique weapons and pictures grace the lounge walls.

The reverse side of the booth wall, in the dining room, also is equipped with small booths for re-arrange into a long table from where the smorgasbord will be served starting Sunday.

FINISH EASTERN TOUR

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Stotz, 2571 Hodges Ave., and their son, Kelly, returned home Monday following a vacation spent touring several Eastern states. They spent the Thanksgiving holidays with their son-in-law and daughter, Sgt. and Mrs.

Joseph Zalanowski of Alexandria, Va.

The young couple was married Oct. 30 at the chapel at Fort Myer, Arlington, where the former Miss Stotz is stationed with the U. S. Army.

Sgt. Zalanowski, who is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Peter Zalanowski of Shamkin, Pa., is stationed at Andrews Air Force Base in Maryland.

The service couple will visit in the Quad Cities in January prior to going to Naples, Italy, for a four-year assignment. Sgt. Zalanowski, the former Miss Stotz, will receive her discharge at Fort Myer later this month.

While in the East, the Stotz family also visited in the home of former residents, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Gallas and children, Greg, Liz, Tommy and Patricia, of College Park, Md., and went on a sightseeing tour that included Arlington National Cemetery, the Smithsonian Institute and the Pentagon, where their daughter is employed.

Madison Board Found In Contempt of Court

Circuit Judge William Beatty found the Madison Board of Education and school administrators in contempt of court for failure to provide transportation for students and to provide equal education facilities in an order signed this week.

The order, drawn after a hearing last week, gave the school district 10 days to resolve inequities of educational facilities at the junior high school level, and to provide an engineer's certificate on distances from four points in the Dunbar School area to Madison Junior High School.

Busing of junior high school students from West Madison to MJHS remained an issue as the school administrators maintained that the area was within 11-miles from the school and that busing was not required under the school code.

Beatty ordered that transportation be provided for the rest of this year and in the future unless equal opportunities are provided at Dunbar by the next school term.

Earlier this week, Judge Beatty told the Press-Record he had left the order unsigned for the reason that it was unnecessary in that progress was under way in resolving the district's problems and that a matter of time.

Ernie Tusovsky of Edwardsville, a past district Rotary governor, spoke to the Madison Rotary Club Wednesday and showed slides of the Rotary International convention last June in Australia. He was the official representative of the Madison club in addition to 11 other clubs in this area.

Rotarian Walter F. Strange reminded the club of a meeting at Schermer's Garden Shop at 8:30 tonight to organize an explorer post under Rotary sponsorship.

Armed Robber Escapes After Clerk Faints

An armed robber escaped with an undetermined amount of money from the Alright Cleaners at the American Village shopping center after 5 p.m. Wednesday.

A man pulled a gun and told a clerk at the shop, Janet Henn, that he wanted all of the money.

She related that she fainted, and when she revived, the man was standing over her. He ordered her to enter a restroom as he left through the rear door.

A 1965 auto, containing a Missouri license plate, was found later by state police at Federal Aid Route 151 and Rock Road.

The robber was described as five feet, eight inches tall, of slender stature, with brown hair and wearing a brown corduroy jacket.

Chrysler and Plymouth Agency at 19th-Grand

Granite Chrysler-Plymouth, Ind., 19th Street and Grand Avenue, has obtained a state incorporation charter for Harold Matson and Earl Glen to deal in new and used autos, it was announced this week. All new cars and service work at Maddox Motors are being transferred to the former Elledge Motor Co. at 19th and Grand, Robert Maddox reported.

The three are sons-in-law of W. Sherman Elledge, who is retiring at the end of this year, and all are experienced in the business. Maddox, who plans semi-retirement, will handle used cars only from a new building on the Maddox used car lot at 4100 Nameoki Road.

Alternating two- and four-year terms for the 50 senatorial districts in Illinois were established Tuesday through a random drawing conducted by Secretary of State John W. Lewis. The local district, the 56th, will have a four-year term in 1972, two years in 1976 and four years in 1978.

Lewis conducted the drawing in his office in the presence of Senator Cecil A. Partee of Chicago, Democratic majority leader of the Senate, and Senator G. William Horsley of Springfield, who represented Senator W. Russell Arrington of Evanson, Senate minority leader.

No Progress in General Steel Nov. 19 Strike

The Castings Division of General Steel Industries and United Steelworkers Local 1023 made no progress in talks held for several hours Monday. Issues in the Nov. 19 strike are money and seniority status.

Gilbert Kannenberg of the U.S. Mediation and Conciliation Service, St. Louis, has not said when he will seek another meeting.

A possible second strike at midnight Tuesday was averted as Boilermakers Local 520 and the company agreed to a 17-day extension of that contract pending further talks. It will expire at midnight, Dec. 17.

SERGEANT AND MRS. THOMAS H. MILNER, whose wedding took place at the First Baptist Church in Mitchell. The bride is the former Miss Mary Lois Peppers, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas W. Peppers of Rural Route 2.

Milner-Peppers Wedding At Ist Baptist, Mitchell

Miss Mary Lois Peppers, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas W. Peppers of Rural Route 2, and Sergeant Thomas H. Milner, U. S. Air Force, a son of Mr. and Mrs. George Milner, 122 West Cordova Road, Santa Fe, N. M., were united in marriage at the First Baptist Church in Mitchell on Nov. 19.

The Rev. Willis Hill performed the double ring ceremony at 7 p.m. before an altar decorated with greenery and lighted tapers.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride selected a gown of white organza over taffeta designed with a bodice of heavy Venice lace. The lace extended into a panel on the front of the full skirt and formed the scalloped stand up collar. Appliques of lace were repeated on the sheer lantern style sleeves and wide fitted cuffs.

A white satin bow secured a bouffant shoulder length veil of bridal illusion and she carried a colonial bouquet of white gladioli and pink roses.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Carla Strong. The bridesmaids were Miss Linda Peppers, a sister of the bride, Mrs. Joyce Dix, the bride's aunt, and Mrs. Colleen Kios.

They wore identical gowns fashioned of orchid polyester crepe bodices and dark purple velvet skirts trimmed with orchid and white braid.

Each carried a cascade bouquet of orchid carnations and baby breath tied with white satin ribbons.

Barbara Peppers and Donald Sykes Jr., a niece and cousin of the bride, served as flower girl and ringbearer. Little Miss Peppers was attired in an orchid polyester crepe frock styled similar to the attendants.

Attending the groom at best man was John Watts with Richard Simcox, Pete Luedde and Tony Kios as groomsmen.

Larry Peppers, a brother of the bride, and Olin McGuire acted as the guests.

A reception was given at the Long Lake Fire Hall following the ceremony. A rehearsal dinner was held at Bill Burns cafeteria on the evening prior to the wedding.

After a two-week trip to Santa Fe, N. M., the newly married couple will make their home at 300 South Morrison Ave., Collinsville.

The former Miss Peppers, a 1969 graduate of Granite City High School, is a service representative at Southwestern Bell Telephone Co.

Sgt. Milner was graduated in 1968 from Santa Fe High School and attended the Eastman School of Rochester, New York, for one year. He is now serving with the Air Force.

HARMONY CLASS PLANS BAKE SALE

The present were Mr. and Mrs. Harold Lynn Mr. and Mrs. John Lerch, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Paddock, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Richardson, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Carper, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Stinch, Mr. and Mrs. Waldo Frohardt, Mrs. Ruby Corbitt, Mrs. Ruth Purkey and guests, the Rev. and Mrs. Roy Baugh, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Reimers and Lee McGlew.

MR. AND MRS. KEITH CARLTON CARISS, who exchanged wedding vows at Lake Grove Presbyterian Church in Oregon. The bride is the former Miss Patricia Louise Truxal of Lake Oswego, Portland, Ore. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Melvin George Cariss of Kirkwood, Mo., formerly of Granite City.

Cariss-Truxal Vows Exchanged in Oregon

An out-of-town wedding of interest here was that taking place Oct. 16 in Oregon of Miss Patricia Louise Truxal, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin George Cariss of Kirkwood, Mo., formerly of Granite City, and Keith Carlton Cariss, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin G. Cariss of Kirkwood, Mo., formerly of Granite City.

The Rev. Robert C. Groves officiated at the double ring ceremony at the Lake Grove Presbyterian Church, White and coral chrysanthemums decorated the sanctuary for the 2 o'clock afternoon service.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of silk organza over tulle with long lantern sleeves and a bodice of Alencon lace. Lace applique accented the high neckline, sleeves and skirt and the cathedral length train was trimmed in Alencon lace.

A silk illusion veil was held in place with a headpiece of flowers and she carried a cascade of stephanotis, white roses and three white orchids.

Honor attendant was Mrs. Donald L. Coor of Portland. Miss Patricia Dean of Portland was maid of honor and Miss Linda Lico of San Jose, Calif., and Miss Julie Steffens of Tacoma, Wash., were bridesmaids.

All wore matching floor length gowns of pale coral fabric featuring Empire waists tied in back with avocado green bows. Each attendant carried a bouquet of green spider chrysanthemums and coral roses.

Best man was Donald L. Coor of Portland. Ushers and groomsmen included Raymond W. Selwert and Richard Nordness, both of Portland, William

A reception was held at the church immediately following the ceremony. Mrs. Stanley Steffens of Tacoma was in charge of the guest book.

The couple spent their honeymoon in Hawaii and are now making their home in Portland. The former Miss Truxal, a graduate of Lewis and Clark College, Portland, is employed by Pacific Northwest Bell Co. Mr. Cariss, who is employed with Meier and Frank Co., is a graduate of Columbia Basin College in Pasco, Wash.

Members of the wedding party were guests of the bridegroom's parents at a rehearsal dinner held in the Sweetbrier Inn at Tualatin, Ore.

DECEMBER BRIDE-ELECT. Miss Judy Uhles, 4025 Gaslight Walk, whose engagement to Gary Collins, 3500 Rock Hill Road, East Alton, is being announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leland Uhles, 411 Maple St., Roxana. She will be married Dec. 28 in Roxana.

Jayceettes Plan For Christmas

Granite City Jayceettes have completed plans for their annual holiday observance, which will once again include presenting the new year's "first born" with a special layette.

Mrs. Sylvia Woods is chairman of the project. Varied items will be given to the first child born at the local hospital in 1972, and the mother.

Plans for the layette were completed at the November meeting held at the home of Mrs. Janet Partney, 2741 Grand Ave. The president, Mrs. Jeanie Kaera, conducted the meeting and reports were given by the secretary, Mrs. Pat Aleman, and the treasurer, Mrs. Ann Davis.

The Jaycee and Jayceette Christmas party will be Dec. 10, at Charlie's, when a dinner dance will take place. Mrs. Partney is in charge of arrangements, and reservations are to be in by Dec. 5.

The ladies' holiday party will be held in conjunction with the next meeting Dec. 21 at the new home of Mrs. Ann Davis, 2317 Shirlene. Members are to bring white elephant gifts.

Mrs. Pat Aleman, immunization clinic chairman, announced that Mrs. Mary Thrane and Mrs. Sylvia Woods will staff the clinic Saturday at the Tri-Cor building.

It was noted that a Thanksgiving basket was prepared by the Jayceettes under the direction of the chairman, Mrs. Cheryl Gann. Mrs. Gann was chosen to represent the group at regional wives' association meetings; the next is to take place Jan. 9 in Greenfield.

Refreshments were served by the hostess.

MISS COLLEEN KAY DAGON, whose engagement to Maynard Ward Hurlbut, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Hurlbut, 2004 Beckwith Ave., Madison, is announced by the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William R. Dagon, 3845 B St.

Couple Planning Winter Wedding

The betrothal and forthcoming marriage of Miss Judy Uhles, 4025 Gaslight Walk, and Gary Collins, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Collins, 3500 Rock Hill Road, East Alton, are announced by the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leland Uhles, 411 Maple St., Roxana.

The wedding will take place Dec. 28 at First United Presbyterian Church in Roxana, with the Rev. James Troop officiating.

Miss Uhles is employed as a physical education teacher at Marshall Grade School. She was graduated from Roxana High School and Illinois State University at Normal, from where she received a bachelor's of science degree in Physical Education in 1969.

Her fiancé is assistant baseball coach at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern campus, where he holds a graduate assistantship while continuing to work toward a master's degree in Counselor Education.

Also a graduate of the Roxana High School, Collins earned a bachelor's degree in Physical Education at SIU-SW. He is employed at Eastgate Carpet Co. in East Alton.

Miss Dagon is in her senior year at Granite City High School. Her fiancé, a 1967 graduate of Madison High School, is employed at Illinois Power Co. in Granite City.

The couple plans to be married Aug. 5, 1972 at Calvary Baptist Church.

Illinois Prison 'Furlough' Plan Passes Its First Test

By JOAN MURARO
Capitol News Service

SPRINGFIELD — Fourteen prisoners serving time in Illinois penal institutions had extra reason to be thankful over the Thanksgiving holiday—they were allowed out of prison to spend three-day "furloughs" with their families.

The men—five from the minimum security prison at Vienna, and a total of nine from the state's five work release centers—were permitted to go home as the state launched its new prison furlough system with no fanfare and no problems.

All 14 returned on schedule to their various facilities, without incident, according to A. M. Monahan, assistant director of corrections, in charge of the adult correction division of the department of corrections.

Five more were released from Vienna to make three-day visits with their families.

The "furlough" system was authorized by recent legislation but the actual rules and guidelines were worked out by the adult correction division. In some instances, the department's regulations are stiffer than those set by the legislature.

Currently, only men are covered by the plan, and those are limited to men who will be eligible for parole within six months, have good prison records, are in either the minimum security facility at Vienna or the work release program, and are married with families. Bachelors and married men without families, are not eligible for furloughs at this time, Monahan said.

There is no dollar cost to the state under the program, since prisoners' families must pay all expenses, and the families must also pick up the prisoner and return him to his residence facility.

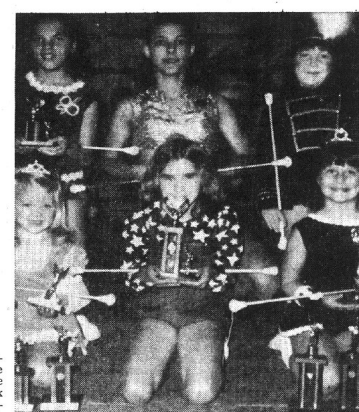

Furloughed prisoners are not allowed to make the visits if they must find their own transportation, Monahan said. Under present regulations, five men at a time will be allowed three days, plus travel time, from Vienna, and two each will be released at a time from the five work release centers.

If the program works out, the furloughs will be extended to men serving time in minimum security units at Menard, Pontiac and Stateville prison at Joliet.

Vienna, with a current population of 278, is the only entirely minimum security penal facility in Illinois.

At Stateville, however, nearly 300 prisoners actually live outside the walls in minimum security units, with approximately 150 more at Menard and 50 at Pontiac also working in minimum security units.

Any furloughed prisoner who did not return on schedule would automatically be classed an "escapee" and pursued accordingly, Monahan said, with strict penalties imposed if the escapee is recaptured.

"The plan has been a real morale booster for the men," Monahan said, "and they are anxious not to lose it up. They know it is strictly up to them if the program continues or not."

Men who have been allowed to make furlough visits to their families will not usually be eligible for a repeat visit until every other eligible man at the facility has had his turn, Monahan said, adding that some exceptions might be made in permitting prisoners to visit family deathbeds, or attend family funerals, which has already been permitted, under supervision, in the past.

Prisoners from Vienna will be able to make visits through the week, Monahan said, while furloughs for those in work release centers will be scheduled so as not to interfere with the prisoners' work schedules.

Baton Students Win 12 Trophies at Meet

Seven baton students of Sharold Yount, 1629 Ferguson Ave., won 12 trophies and three medals at a National Baton Twirling Association contest Saturday at Macon, Ill.

Lynell Spanberger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Spanberger, 3016 Dale Ave., won five, including a second in parade majorette, thirds in fancy strut, basic strut and military and fifth in personality.

Emmanuel Baptist Church officiated at the wedding Nov. 27 of Miss Sheila Kaye Lewis, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Lewis, 2423 Morrison Road and Michael Joseph Loftus, son of Mrs. Norma Loftus, 3101 Ash Ave., and the late Joseph Loftus.

The Rev. Vernon Covington officiated at the 2 o'clock double ring ceremony. Mrs. Gary Cotter presided at the organ, furnishing several selections prior to the arrival of the wedding party.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor length gown fashioned of ivory organza and designed with an Empire bodice, high neckline and full Camello sleeves with wide cuffs.

Delicate lace motifs were applied on the sleeves, the full skirt and repeated on the chapel length train. The train was edged with a full ruffle flounce matching the gathered hemline of the gown.

The elbow length veil of bridal illusion was secured by a Camello headpiece and she carried a cascade arrangement of white daisies and white roses centered with a detachable orchid corsage.

Miss Debbie Honnell, maid of honor, wore a formal length gown of orchid chiffon accented with a dark purple velvet ribbon encircling the Empire bodice.

The bridesmaids, Mrs. Linda Coppedge and Mrs. Rudy Behrens, both sisters of the bride, were attired in long formal gowns of printed chiffon.

All the attendants wore nose tip veils of matching shades of orchid, attached to fabric bows, and they carried cascade bouquets of orchid daisies and white roses.

Michael Coppedge, a nephew of the bride, served as the ring-bearer.

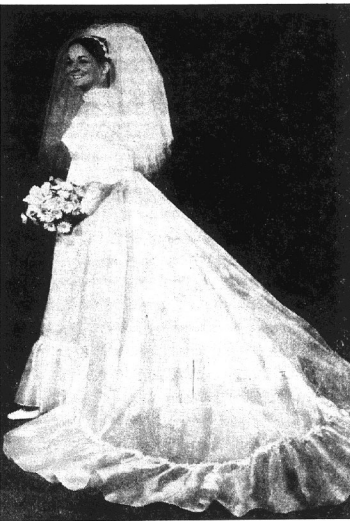

The bridegroom chose Earl Parsons as best man and Robert Allen, his brother-in-law and Tim Moore as groomsmen. Dwight Lewis, a brother of the bride and Kevin Kennedy, the groom's cousin, were ushers.

Mrs. Robert Allen, the groom's sister, presided at the guest book at the reception given in the church hall immediately following the ceremony.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Lewis wore a two-piece, street length, dress in green with matching accessories. Mrs. Loftus chose a street length pink chiffon dress with accessories in a matching shade.

Both mothers wore white orchid corsages. After a wedding trip to Boston, Mass., the newly married couple will make their home in Granite City.

In loving memory of ALFRED THOMAS who passed away Dec. 2, 1969:

Those who have gone, our hearts ache with sadness. When days are lonely and sad, he and the Lord says, "Carry on."

Sadly missed by wife and family, sister and two brothers and all who loved him. PEARL THOMAS

In loving memory of BRUCE ELLIOTT who passed away Dec. 2, 1964:

The roll was called he whispered your name, But nothing to us has been the same. A priceless gift your children had. For God picked you to be our Dad. You talked to us many hours of the Bible. The path that Jesus trod, I guess that was why you never saw the need to ever use the rod. Now your children are all grown. And getting on in years. Some have families of their own. I pray God will grant me this. For it comes from God alone. Sadly missed by wife, daughters and sons. PEARL THOMAS

Youth Focus

Governor: Youths Want To Build, Not Destroy

(The governor discusses his thoughts on young people in the following special column.)

By GOV. RICHARD B. OGILVIE

A popular movie some years ago asked musically: "What's the matter with kids today?"

Older people have been asking that question in different forms, I would guess, since the world began.

Just a couple of years ago, the news media were saturated with the activities of the tiny minority of young people bent on outright revolution.

Their deadly tactics killed innocent people and sometimes themselves.

Yet the damage they did to the good name of millions of other young people seems to have begun to fade away—thank goodness.

The reality of what our children are has overcome the powerful impression left by the few who got into the news.

I don't mean to imply that our kids are perfect, collectively. There are still frightening and disturbing trends—like drug abuse.

Yet, most of our children are doing today's equivalent of what we did at their ages—including questioning the values and standards we live by as they search for their own.

One of the most interesting aspects of the so-called youth rebellion is still to come.

For only time itself will reveal how they behave as parents facing the traditional rebelliousness of their own children.

We have a perspective, for example, of the significance of the noisy Chicago 7 conspiracy trial.

Judging from the headlines during the trial, one might have concluded that our system of justice was about to come tumbling down.

It didn't, did it? And how much change was wrought by the defendants in that trial, who proclaimed it was "America," as they call it, that was on trial?

I don't mean to fault the news media in this discussion. They reported the news by the time-honored standards of what constitutes news—the unusual.

Yet our concern should be more properly centered on the great mass of young people who are, in fact, doing little or nothing that is unusual or bizarre.

I spent Thanksgiving Day with members of my wife's family. And it was evident in that family group—as in so many families—that the abiding concern of the parents was for the welfare of their children.

In that Thanksgiving setting, I had reason to remember the alarming situation which prevailed on the college campuses of Illinois following Kent State and the incursion into Cambodia.

I had mobilized every available Army National Guardsman in this state to try to keep the peace—peacefully.

It was a tense situation, with terribly real possibilities of serious and deadly incidents.

In an thankful beyond words that good sense prevailed.

But that is yesterday's news. Today's news—in a variety of publications—is about the decline or demise of the ultra-radical groups that were news two years ago.

Students are turning, instead, to the "system" by registering to vote and by getting to work on projects that interest them.

Three paragraphs from a recent series of news articles caught my eye, and I want to share them with you:

"Students who ran through the streets screaming for revolution have turned to different tactics this fall."

"They admit that mass demonstration and protest rallies no longer appeal to Midwestern university and college students."

"Students are not willing to follow in the ways of destruction, but are more interested in building up and replacing the outmoded," said a Michigan State University graduate student." If that is true—and I believe it is—then the question has been answered:

"What's the matter with kids today?"

Not a whole lot that hasn't always been true. In a world grown increasingly complex, they are moving ahead with values both old and new.

COUGARS THANK THEIR FANS. Members of the Southern Illinois University-Southwestern soccer team unfurled a banner proclaiming the Cougar fans "No. 1" at the conclusion of the regular season finale with the University of South Florida. The Cougars won 3-1 to run their record for the season to 9-1-1.

Girl Page Appointed To Senate Floor Post

Miss Ellen McConnell, who made history when she was appointed the first girl page in the U. S. Senate, has set another precedent.

Miss McConnell, who was named to the Senate page position by Sen. Charles H. Percy, has been named as one of four "floor assistants" on the U. S. Senate floor.

The title, which had previously been "floor boy," was changed to accommodate Miss McConnell's appointment.

Floor assistants are selected on the basis of merit, rather than seniority, and they are responsible for keeping amendments and bills in order for the senators and dispatching other pages on errands.

"The job can become quite

complicated when, as just recently, we are hearing statements on 30 separate amendments to one bill, and virtually every senator is in the chamber. And keeping track of 30 pages can be a challenging job, as well," Percy said.

"But I was confident when I appointed Ellen, that she had the good judgment, intelligence, tenacity and willingness to work hard that would immediately identify her as one of the most capable of the members of the page corps."

"I think she has demonstrated that that confidence was justified."

Center Board Officers Attend Regional Meet

Officers of the University Center Board and program department staff members at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern, attended the Association of College Unions International Region 9 conference in Bloomington, Ind.

Tom Poppsil, president of the University Center Board, was elected student chairman of Region 9. SIU-SW also has several other persons in key positions on the ACUI governing board. Richard Madison, assistant director of the University Center, is the regional representative, and Gene Hatfield, assistant program director for the University Center Board, is assistant regional representative. Bill Snyder, a student, is the host school conference chairman for 1972.

The conference was held to give the Union boards in Region 9 an opportunity to exchange ideas of programming. Some of the topics discussed were administration and students, Black student unions, planning of film programming and theft and vandalism in the Unions. SIU-SW will host the 1972 conference.

THE PERCUSSION QUARTET from Young Audience, Inc., of St. Louis, entertained fourth through sixth grade humanities students at Dunbar and Louis Baer schools in Madison district. Rich O'Donnel, left, principal percussionist with the St. Louis Symphony, was among the well known musicians in the quartet. The group also included Don Schroeder, John Kasica and Rich Jones. Mrs. Marguerite Connole directs the Madison humanities program.

Venetian Editors Work Hard to Meet Deadline

While their friends are counting the days until Christmas, Linda Durer and Kim Boelling of Venice High School are working toward Dec. 15. At three o'clock on that day, they can breathe a sigh of relief and join their friends in the Christmas countdown. Dec. 15 means "deadline" to these co-editors of the 1972 Venetian. By that date, one-half of the pages of the yearbook must be completed and in the hands of the publisher in Dallas.

Also, on that date, the yearbook staff is presenting its first daytime all-school Christmas coronation program at which the 1972 yearbook queen will be announced and crowned.

Meeting deadlines is not new for the two girls for they helped revive the Venetian last year after a four-year lapse and served as its co-editors.

In addition to directing the yearbook, both Linda and Kim have continually ranked near the top of the school's honor roll, and last week were listed among the new State Scholars for 1972. Both are members of the National Honor Society with Linda currently serving as the organization's president and Kim as vice-president.

This year both girls are active in student council and Kim is chairman of publicity for the group. They were charter members of the school's chapter of the Future Teachers of America and have belonged to the Future Homemakers of America. Kim is serving as a tutor in the Student Involvement Project, which assists junior high students who have home-work problems.

Kim is the daughter of Forest Boelling, 618 Broadway, and Mrs. Delores Milkoski, 1248 Oriole St. Linda's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Fred Durer Jr., 601 Jefferson Ave. As a final note of togetherness, the girls are cousins.

Scott Outlines Points to Watch In Choosing Toys

Illinois Attorney General William J. Scott today warned holiday shoppers to use care in purchasing toys for gifts, since some toys with faulty construction details that can cause painful injuries to children may still be on the market.

Scott explained that in the past 10 months, the sale of 141 toys being marketed has been banned by the Food and Drug Administration.

In most cases, production of the dangerous toys has been stopped or the toys redesigned to make them safe. But because of the time needed to find and remove the toys from the shelves, some may still be on the market.

Scott said children can be seriously injured by such poorly-designed details as sharp wires or prongs meant to hold the shape of dolls or stuffed toys. These can easily break through the toy's cover material.

The attorney general cited other examples of toys which should be avoided:

1. Brittle plastic toys which shatter, sending out flying pieces of plastic and leaving jagged edges.
2. Toys with sharp metal edges or parts.
3. Stuffed animals with button eyes that can be removed and swallowed by small children.
4. Rattles which can break apart into easily-swallowed pieces.
5. Dangerous games such as darts or bows and arrows.

Attorney General Scott warned that the holiday season brings with it many reports of eye and other injuries to children caused by broken or unsuitable toys.

Persons who have spotted a hazardous toy should write to the attorney general's office, he said. Letters should include the name and model number of the toy and why the consumer thinks the toy is dangerous.

The letters should be addressed to the Consumer Fraud and Protection Division, Office of the Attorney General, 124 N. LaSalle St., Room 204, Chicago, Ill. 60602.

A list of the 141 toys banned by the Food and Drug Administration can be obtained from Scott's office on request.

Senior Girls to Take Homemaker Examinations

High school senior girls here will be among more than 600,000 in nearly 15,000 schools across the country who will participate in a 50-minute written knowledge and attitude examination Tuesday, Dec. 7.

Scores in the test will provide the first basis for judging which will eventually award a total of $111,000 in college scholarships in the 18th annual Betty Crocker Search for the American Homemaker of Tomorrow.

Sponsored by General Mills, the Search is the only national scholarship program exclusively for high school senior girls.

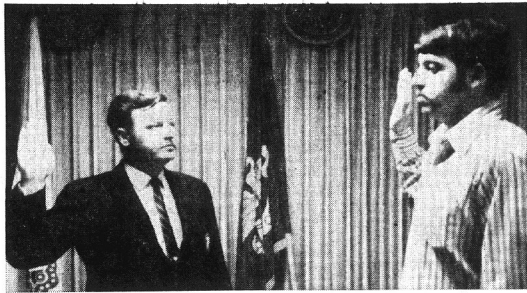

Following grading of the examination, a Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow will be named for the high schools here. She will receive a specially designed award charm, and will remain in the running for state and national honors.

State Homemakers of Tomorrow—one from each state and the District of Columbia—will be awarded $1,500 scholarships, with their schools receiving a set of Encyclopedia Britannica. A runner-up in each state will be awarded a $500 educational grant.

Next spring, the 51 state winners each accompanied by a faculty adviser will join for an expense-paid educational tour of Colonial Williamsburg Va. and Washington D. C. On the basis of personal observation and interviews the 1972 Betty Crocker All American Homemaker of Tomorrow and three runners-up will be announced at the conclusion of the tour. They will receive increases in their scholarships to $5,000, $4,000, $3,000 and $2,000.

All judging and selection of winners is conducted by Science Research Associates, Chicago, which also constructs and grades the written examination. YOU CAN DEPEND ON THE DODGE BOYS.

THEY CARE ABOUT YOU!

REMEMBER WHEN CAR DEALERS LIKED TO TALK ABOUT ECONOMY?

(WE DODGE BOYS STILL DO.)

Wed like to point out that, in America's big-car field, we still offer you an economical 318-cubic-inch V8. It's standard equipment on our new '72 Dodge Polara. Meanwhile, our competition offers much larger V8s, standard—up around 350 cubic inches. The Dodge 318 V8 has a long and trusted heritage for brisk performance plus satisfying mileage economy. And it uses regular gas.

Of course, if you want a larger Dodge V8, you have the choice of one of our 360-, 400-, or 440-cubic-inch engines (optional, at extra cost). A Dodge test drive will help you decide.

Check out the newly restyled '72 Polara, today. Come in, we'll talk "economy" in lots of interesting ways.

Man Shot by Police At State Park Dies

A man who was shot by a state trooper during a chase in State Park Place Monday afternoon died at 11 p.m. the same day at Firmin Desloge Hospital, St. Louis.

The man, identified as Arthur E. Warren, 35, of Collinsville, was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital here with wounds to the abdomen, left hand and left hip at 12:45 p.m. and then was transferred to the St. Louis hospital.

He was shot with a riot gun after holding Madison County sheriff's deputy Robert Strackeljohn as a hostage in an unoccupied house in State Park Place.

Strackeljohn and deputy George Sykes were surprised by the man while answering a burglary call at a house on Rene Avenue, they reported. The state trooper, called to assist, reported that the man first had threatened to kill them. The man was armed with a .44 caliber revolver and a .22 caliber automatic pistol, and the larger gun was cocked. Warren later also was identified as Dean Adams, no address, authorities said.

Tires, Wheels Stolen

Rear tires, wheels, wheel covers and lug nuts valued at $200 were stolen from a 1969 auto parked under a canopy at the Hundley Pontiac Agency, 1801 Madison Ave., during the weekend, it was reported Monday.

Tires, Glass Ruined

Henry L. Williams, 2036 Iowa St., reported at noon Monday that four tires were slit and the windshield was smashed on his 1964 auto while it was parked at the rear of his home during the night.

Earth-Orbiting Stations Will Be Just Like Home

Even before Congress has decided whether to finance huge earth-orbiting stations for the late 1970s, aerospace engineers are busy designing them with all the comforts of home.

Blueprinting and building a house for 12 people is job enough on earth. When the plan is to hoist it hundreds of miles into space to whirl around the world for 10 years or more, the problems multiply fast, says D. E. Charhut, chief space station designer for the McDonnell Douglas Astronautics Co.

The aerospace firm has conducted preliminary design studies on a 12-man spaceborne station and scientific laboratory for the federal space agency's Marshall Space Flight Center, Huntsville, Ala.

Today's technology is sufficient to build a station with a life of at least a decade in space, says Charhut. Just as earth-bound builders often design houses on additional rooms can be added later, the ideal space station design must be flexible enough to allow for additional laboratories over the years.

Ready by 1977

A station to accommodate 12 astronauts and scientists could be ready for launch by 1977—a year before the liftoff date now envisioned by the space agency—according to Charhut. Hurled aloft by a two-stage Saturn V moon rocket with its 7.5 million pounds of thrust, the station would weigh about 187,000 pounds, be 11 feet long and 33 feet in diameter.

Three two-story modules linked together would allow room for additional space experiments. An isotope (nuclear) electrical power system and water and atmospheric systems would make the station as comfortable and functional as a well-equipped American home, according to Charhut.

An earth-to-orbit shuttle system would provide a stream of supplies, additional experiments, crew rotation and the return of completed experiments to grounded scientists.

A central tunnel would run the length of the station to serve as a traffic artery for men and equipment and an airlock for the shuttlecraft or other spaceships operating from the station.

It would be launched into a 246-mile circular orbit, high enough for scientists to study the earth over wide regions. Charhut believes the elements of such a station would become the "building blocks" for craft used on later missions in earth orbit, to the moon or the planets.

Have Gravity Problems? But what of the "zero gravity" problems involved in putting together a home and laboratory that will find nearly everything and everybody floating about in a weightless state unless they are fastened down? The task of solving that problem went to the Grumman Aerospace Corp., Bethpage, Long Island, N.Y., under a space agency study contract with the Manned Spacecraft Center, Houston.

Man's mobility and body movements on earth are related directly to the forces of gravity. So Grumman engineers and deof the period. While there is no date on the card, it is one of several owned by Wilfred Campbell, 3105 Maryville Road, indicating the era was about 1910.

Dollar Changer Taken From Owens-Illinois

Burglars stole a dollar bill changing machine and the change from four vending machines in the cafeteria of the Owens-Illinois Forest Products Division, Madison, early this week.

The changing machine apparently had been ripped from the wall, and cigarette, snack, hot food and chilled food vending machines had been pried open. Entry to the cafeteria was gained by breaking the glass in a cafeteria door.

This Week in America's History

1771—Leaders in Massachusetts Bay Colony were actively concerned by this time about British colonial policies that they regarded as improperly restrictive.

Eight men, all residents of Boston and vicinity, all Massachusetts-born, and six who had graduated from Harvard, gained special prominence in resultant activities leading to independence.

These eight were James Otis, John Adams, Samuel Adams, John Hancock, Elbridge Gerry, Robert Treat Paine, Nathaniel Gorham, and Paul Revere.

In 1771, they ranged in age from 27 to 49, with Gerry the youngest and Sam Adams the oldest.

Three were lawyers and five were in business, and seven served in the Massachusetts General Court, or Legislature.

Six were to serve in the Continental Congress, two as its president, and five were to sign the Declaration of Independence.

Three also were to be members of the U. S. Constitutional Convention, three were to become governors of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, two were to become vice presidents and one President of the United States and father of a second President.

1821—James Buchanan is in his first year as a member of the U. S. House of Representatives, from Pennsylvania.

At 30, he had served in the War of 1812, then in the Pennsylvania state legislature and had gained early success in the practice of law.

After 10 years in the House, he became U. S. minister to Russia in 1831-1833 and went to the U. S. Senate in 1845. He was secretary of state under President Polk in 1845-1849, U. S. minister to Great Britain in 1850-1856, and was to become the 15th President of the United States, a Democrat, in 1856-1861.

He was the only President never to marry. He did not run for reelection in 1860 and after the inauguration of Abraham Lincoln as his successor in 1861—he retired to his country estate near Lancaster, Pa., where he died seven years later, at 77.

Santo Domingo, in the Caribbean, oldest of Spain's colonies in the new world, declares its independence, and seeks to ally itself with Colombia, for protection.

This alliance failed, and Santo Domingo was overrun by forces from French Haiti, in the western part of the island, so that for the next 22 years the entire island was dominated by Haiti.

1871—Walt Whitman published "Passage to India," containing that poem and 72 others. Originally Walter Whitman, and living in New York and New Jersey, he was variously a printer, teacher, newspaper reporter, carpenter, an Army male nurse in the Civil War, and later a government clerk in Washington.

In intervals, he walked about much of the United States and Canada, and wrote poetry. His chief work, "Leaves of Grass," he published himself in New York when he was 36.

Browning Carroll, assistant professor of history; Ivan A. Elliott Jr., Carmi, trustee; Jack F. Isakoff, professor of government; T. Richard Magor, SIU legal counsel; Frederick J. Naffziger, assistant professor of finance; Harris Rowe, Jacksonville, trustee; Max W. Turner, professor of government; and Gola Waters, assistant professor of business.

Lyster urged the committee to make its recommendation for the law school dean as early as possible, consistent with discovery of a first-rate candidate or candidates. Approval for the law school was voted by the board of trustees at its Nov. 19 meeting here.

Snowmobiles Catching On as Illinois Hobby

By JOAN MURARO
Copley News Service

Springfield — Nearly 4,000 snowmobiles have been registered in Illinois so far this year, reflecting the growing popularity of the relatively new sport vehicles.

So far, 3,650 owners have paid $6 each to register their vehicles for two years with the division of boating in the state Department of Conservation. After two years, they must be re-registered.

Funds collected for snowmobile registrations are put into a special fund, similar to that set up for boating license fees, and the funds are kept for uses related to snowmobile operation, such as maintenance and expansion of areas especially designated for use by the winter buggies.

It is unlawful to operate a snowmobile which has not been registered, according to the office of Kenneth Gruenwald, which also supervises the snowmobiles.

As with any other vehicle, it is also unlawful to operate one when under the influence of alcohol or drugs, to operate them after dark unless they are equipped with lighted head and tail lights, to operate them anywhere but in designated areas, or to operate them in violation of speed limits, or in a manner unsafe for conditions.

To be sure snowmobile owners and operators know the regulations, and the penalties for failure to obey them, the Conservation Department has made available a small pamphlet listing, in digest form, the 1972 Illinois snowmobile rules and regulations, similar to the boating laws digest which the Department also distributes free of charge.

Copies can be obtained from the Division of Boating in the Conservation Department, in either the Springfield or Chicago offices, where applications for registration can also be obtained.

Most dealers of snowmobiles also have been supplied, by the department, with both the registration application forms and the rules digest.

Bulgarian Film to Be Shown Twice in Area

A Bulgarian movie entitled "The Peach Thief" will be shown at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern twice Dec. 8 in the River Rooms of the University Center. The first showing is scheduled for 12:30 p.m., the second at 7:30 p.m.

The movie concerns the conflict between love and war in Bulgaria at the end of World War I. According to a London Spectator critic, the film is "packed tightly with feelings about war, love, prison and pain."

The Slavic and East European Friends of SIU-SW are sponsoring the showing at Edwardsville.

Yule Customs Change Little Over the Years

By PAUL CORCORAN
Copley News Service

Christmas is one time of the year when all persons, regardless of religious faith, can afford the luxury of happiness.

And however exuberant the observation of Christmas in 1971 may be, it is relatively tame compared with the almost hedonistic celebrations of centuries ago.

In an age of speed and instant service, it is hard to imagine what went into the preparation for the Christmas feast and related festivities centuries ago.

The enjoyment of the pleasures of life no longer is limited to a single season. But in days gone by, particular emphasis was placed on merry-making on perhaps two or three extended occasions each year.

Christmas was no one-day holiday in the Middle Ages, any more than it is now. The celebration lasted for 12 days.

And because of transportation problems and primitive storage facilities, extensive preparations were made to insure that sufficient food and drink stored for the feasting.

There is remarkably little difference in traditions, customs, decorations, and other features of the Christmas holiday despite national differences and some religious departures from the norm.

Christmas remains the one time of the year when national customs are similar to those of past centuries.

Gifts and decorations, carol singing, feasting, and church services — all are associated with Christmas and contributed to the memories that accumulate over the years. The traditional Christmas also has added some "new" touches in the last century.

The Christmas tree, so much a part of the holiday observance in America, was not a feature of the English or American observance until the late 19th century, for example. Albert Albert, the husband of Queen Victoria, had been a German prince before marriage. He introduced the Christmas tree into England.

Although Christmas trees were not known previously in Great Britain, their origin can be traced to the Roman poet, Virgil, who refers in one of his poems to a pine tree on which small objects were hung upon the branches.

The decision to celebrate Christmas in December was not a matter of chronological accuracy, but did conform to pre-Christian tradition.

Hundreds of years before the birth of Jesus Christ, the end of the year was a time of feasting and rejoicing.

The leaders of the early Roman Catholic Church decided to make the period of the winter feast a Christian festival honoring the birth of Christ, permitting the people to continue some of what originally were pagan customs.

Such traditions as the burning of the Yule log, use of evergreen for decoration, and the belief that the Yule log is a relic of antiquity, with no connection to Christian religion. Mistletoe also was connected with winter solstice rites before the coming of Christ.

The Yule log — a product of Scandinavia — had special significance in early days. It was another product of pre-Christian days, incorporated in a feast called Jul from which the word Yule was derived.

The Yule log was kept burning for at least 24 hours starting Christmas Eve.

Giving of gifts is a relatively new feature of Christmas, perhaps little more than a century old. The Germans, it is theorized, may have borrowed gift giving from Russia.

It was that country which originated the legend of the woman who failed to take advantage of the opportunity to go with the Wise Men to offer a gift to Christ; thereafter, she traveled from house to house to leave gifts for children in the hope she would find the infant Jesus.

Since pie became a Christmas standard at the end of the 17th century. It was mentioned by Ben Jonson, the Elizabethan poet and playwright, in one of his plays.

The Lord of Misrule was an early Christmas custom, and became notorious because of drunkenness and other misconduct.

It was abandoned, eventually, after rulers invaded churches with services in progress and went so far as to force people to hand them alms brought for the church offertories.

So serious was the situation that under Oliver Cromwell, many revels were halted during the reign of Charles II, however, they were revived.

More than one single occasion, it motivates people of all beliefs to join together.

Still, there is much that remains of the early days of the Christmas festival.

More than one single occasion, it motivates people of all beliefs to join together.

CARE OF SUEDER GARMENTS

Suede leather garments thrive on use and become more supple with wear.

Follow these general tips on suede care:

—Suede seldom needs dry cleaning. Brush it regularly to keep dust from settling in the nap.

—Most spots and light stains can be removed easily. If brushing doesn't work, use a soft gum eraser, emery board or chalk cleaner. You can buy chalk cleaners in stick form or aerosol can in household or notions departments.

—Heavily soiled suedes should be dry cleaned professionally. If your suede garment has a label or tag suggesting special household or dry cleaning procedures, follow the instructions.

—Suede is waterproof. If your suede garment gets wet or rain-spotted, dry it away from heat. When dry, brush it with a terry towel to restore the original appearance. Brush the nap in one direction.

—Most wrinkles in suede will hang out overnight. If wrinkles persist, press with an iron at the "rayon" setting. Use heavy wrapping paper as a press cloth and press on the right side of the garment. Press with a light, quick touch.

—To store suede garments for an extended period, hang them in a well-ventilated closet.

PUMPKIN PIE TIME

Pumpkin pie rates high as a nutritious dessert. In addition, it has a lower calorie value than most other kinds of pie. In just one piece of pumpkin pie (one seventh of a 9-inch pie) you get more than half the vitamin A you need in a day—and 275 calories. That's a calorie bargain when you compare a piece of pumpkin pie with other varieties. For example, a piece of lemon meringue pie furnishes 385 calories; apple pie, 345 calories; and pecan pie, 495 calories.

BREAKFAST, THE PROBLEM MEAL

Nobody seems less interested in breakfast than teenage girls.

One reason many skip breakfast is that they want to lose weight. But eating breakfast may actually help keep one from gaining weight. Dieters who skip breakfast frequently eat a high-calorie snack at mid-morning to tide them over until lunchtime. Eating about one-fourth of the day's food at breakfast reduces the temptation to snack.

The body really needs food in the morning after an 8 to 10 hour fast. Without food, one is likely to become tired, irritable and inefficient by mid-morning.

Public Glad Ogilvie Trying To Cope With Relief Chaos

By KEN WATSON
Copley News Service

Springfield—Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie may be regaining some political ground by his handling of the welfare issue.

Grassroots reports reaching the Statehouse are that voters in general are sympathetic with the governor in his efforts to bring some order into the monumental relief mess.

Bitter attacks on Ogilvie, chiefly by Chicago liberals and minority leaders, appear to have backfired and earned for him more words of support than he has received in a long time.

Whether it is a fair summation or not, most Illinois taxpayers, especially those Downstate, feel that relief rolls are top heavy.

The recent "march" on Springfield of relief recipients and welfare workers was rated as pretty much of a failure, fewer than 2,000 out of a hoped-for 10,000 participating. Worse yet, from their standpoint, the reaction of the Springfield man-on-the-street was overwhelmingly critical.

Winning Ogilvie possible political support is a general feeling among the taxpayers that he is doing as much as can be expected to hold down welfare costs.

His efforts to transfer more of the relief cost to the federal government are warmly welcomed.

Unless relief rolls are somehow trimmed or at least held at current levels — and unless substantial assistance is soon forthcoming from Washington, Illinois, like other major states, will be forced into a bitter choice of either raising taxes or going bankrupt.

So far, none of Ogilvie's political critics have come up with any better ideas for heading off this calamity than has the governor.

On the contrary, a few have slipped into a possible political miscalculation by accusing the governor of "letting the people go hungry."

Another bright streak in the clouded Ogilvie political clouds are the continuing and increasing reports from the grassroots that his massive highway construction program is beginning to win him some significant support.

There is some speculation, too, that Lt. Gov. Paul Simon, all but certain to be the Democratic candidate for governor, may have hurt himself by frequent criticism of the highway funding procedure.

There may be a real fear developing among workers that Simon as governor might slow down the highway program.

Most people at the Statehouse doubt that he could if he wanted to. But in politics, the voters rarely read the fine print.

Ogilvie's re-election outlook is still hazy, but welfare and highway could light the way back.

Meeting on Tenants' Role in Management

The Business Division of SIU-SW will host a meeting Friday to plan a series of housing management training programs for next year.

Four eight-week training programs, beginning in February 1972, will feature on-the-job training designed to prepare participants for positions in the field of housing management, according to Marshall J. Burak, associate dean of the Business Division.

Burak and Prof. Harry Schroeder authored the training program.

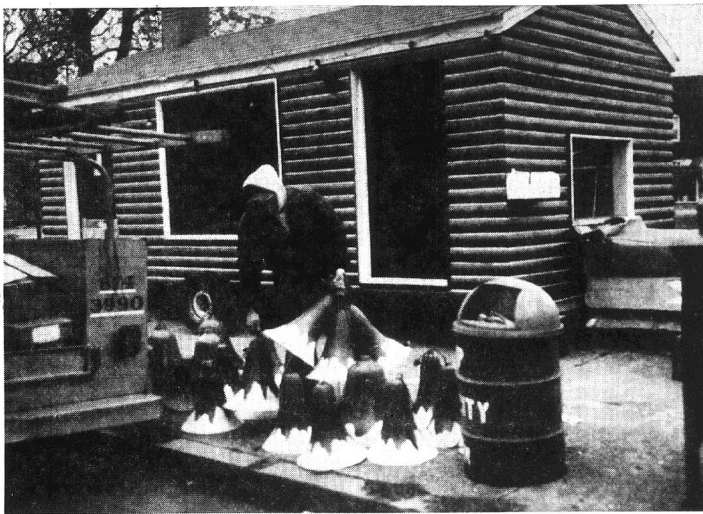

Housing specialists from local, state and national organizations have been invited to offer suggestions at the one-day meeting.

Among the experts who have indicated they will attend are David Long, director of the Model Cities program in East St. Louis; Elmer Smith, director of the St. Louis area office of the Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD); Kirk Walsh, special HUD Secretary George Romney; Norman Watson, assistant secretary, HUD office of housing management; and Red Paulini, program development director of the office of housing and buildings, department of local government affairs, state of Illinois.

President John S. Rendleman and Business Division Dean John W. Leonard will welcome the delegates Friday.

The planned training programs have been designed primarily to support the HUD objectives of increased tenant participation in management of their own housing communities. Prof. Burak said. Objective of the training is to foster improved community, social and service facilities for residents of assisted housing, Burak said.

Optimists to Forego Christmas Tree Sales

The Granite City Optimist Club has announced that it will forego the sale of Christmas trees this season.

In previous years, the club sold trees at a lot at 24th Street and Madison Avenue. A club spokesman said the market has diminished and it is difficult to obtain sufficient personnel to man the lot.

Walker Intent On Staying in State Primary

By KEN WATSON
Copley News Service

Springfield — As unhappy as the party regulars may be about it, next year now appears certain to see a real Democratic primary in Illinois.

Statehouse Republicans are hopeful that, for a change, the various contests may stir up some sparks among the Democrats that will rebound to the GOP's benefit in the fall campaign. Usually it has been the other way around.

It is now virtually assured that Democrats will have a lively fight for the gubernatorial nomination matching Lt. Gov. Paul Simon, expected to be the choice of Chicago Mayor Richard J. Daley and his slate-mate, and Dan Walker, the walking attorney from Chicago.

There has been considerable speculation beneath the Capitol Dome that Walker—faced with the massive combination of Daley's Chicago machine and Simon's recognized Downstate popularity—might prudently withdraw rather than face an anticipated clobbering.

But Norton Kay, a former campaign aide to U. S. Sen. Adlai E. Stevenson III and now Walker's public relations man, says that Walker not only has no intention of dropping out but is more confident than ever that he will make a strong race.

Kay cites better-than-expected Walker showings in respected polls in several newspapers plus a sharp increase in mailed-in money contributions.

Although Simon rates as an overwhelming favorite, the Walker candidacy poses a big problem for Simon and Daley.

Unless Simon wins by anything less than a landslide, his prospects for beating Republican Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie in November will lose some of their present bright luster.

Granite City PRESS-RECORD
Thurs., Dec. 2, 1971 Page 3C

Also uncharacteristically envious the Democratic primary is a developing scramble among some of the presidential aspirants.

Sen. Edmund S. Muskie of Maine, Sen. George S. McGovern of South Dakota, and former Sen. Eugene McCarthy of Wisconsin, are expected to be involved either in the preferential voting via states of National Convention delegates.

Other possibilities, including former Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey and Sen. Henry M. Jackson of Washington, could be in the fray before filing is completed.

All this is bound to create some intra-party friction as well as stimulate the voting turnout.

Walker, although he makes it plain he is staying out of the presidential situation, could well benefit—since voters making up their own minds as to a presidential favorite could extend this independence to the governor's race.

What we really see is a Democratic party leader who is independent-minded voters might take a swipe at Daley and his aging machine by marking for Walker over Simon.

Meanwhile, Republicans appear to be home free as far as serious primary fights are concerned. Even before it arrives, 1972 is shaping up as a strange and unpredictable election year.

Statewide Elections Being Won by Many Independents

By MICHAEL O'CONNOR
Copley News Service

WASHINGTON — Politicians here, analyzing the effects of recent big city votes for mayor, have begun paying more than cautious attention to another race which might have more far-reaching partisan implications.

That contest occurred in Virginia where state voters elected Henry Howell, a Democratic state senator, to become lieutenant governor, filling the vacancy caused by death of the incumbent earlier this year.

Howell is an old-school southern conservative who made a pitch for votes in the manner of a man who spoke for the people.

The political curiosity is that Howell skipped formal party support to seek the office as an "independent."

In doing so, he defeated Establishment candidates sponsored by Democrats and Republicans.

It can never be said that as Virginia goes, so goes the nation. But Howell's election did make a point to politicians here — that party label and support are not always enough in the political arsenal.

Those who saw Howell's victory as somewhat important note that Sen. Harry Byrd of Virginia won re-election last year by also following the independent route.

At the same time, Conservative James Buckley of New York won a Senate seat by skipping support of the major parties.

In the long run, politicians seem to feel the "vote the man, not the party" syndrome of the American electorate continues to bode well for Gov. George Wallace of Alabama and his new untested presidential ambitions next year.

Those who follow the course of Florida in the capital are revealing in the attention that the current condition of party affairs is bringing to their state.

All are confident the state's first presidential primary in March will draw the elite of Democratic Party aspirants. Sen. Henry Jackson, D-Wash., is among those hoping to run well in Florida.

Three months after the election, the state will be the site for the Democratic National Convention.

Florida lobbyists here say the effort is not being pushed solely to put the Gator State on the political map.

The real issue may be money and Florida's ability to handle very large conventions.

They say Miami impressed the Republicans in 1968 with the handling of a nominating convention and aims to do the same thing with the Democrats.

The big goals to put Miami Beach ahead of Chicago and other big city meeting places as the nation's best convention city.

William Magruder, the man who unsuccessfully carried the administration's battle for continuation of supersonic transport development to Congress, is out of sight but not out of mind with the White House.

Magruder's latest job — with a high White House priority — is to develop a program utilizing a heavy portion of the aerospace and other economically hurt technical industries in a new domestic program which President Nixon wants to kick off early next year.

Computer Helping State Evaluate Caliber of Care in Nursing Homes

By JOAN MURARO
Copley News Service

Springfield — The computer has now turned its probing electronic eye on operation of more than 1,100 nursing homes and homes for the aged in Illinois.

Since last April, 20 have gone out of business because they didn't meet operating standards, and some of the closings are directly traceable to that probing computer.

Presently, there are more than 70,000 persons, the population of a medium-sized city, residing in what the Public Health Department terms long care homes, in Illinois.

Besides homes for the aged, they include facilities offering skilled care, intermediate care and sheltered care, with various, clearly-spelled out requirements for operating each class listed in the Department's recently issued and honed-down list of minimum standard rules and regulations.

That volume, published just last September, replaces three previous volumes, one for each type of operation.

Homes for the aged, also licensed by the state, may or may not offer some type of care offered in the other classes, and in addition, by Illinois law, must be operated on a non-profit basis.

According to Russel L. Bryant, administrator of the long term care section of the Department's Division of Health Facilities, immediate steps such as hiring of more inspectors, were taken last March and April, just after disclosures of nursing home conditions in Chicago.

The computer joined the work staff more recently. Since last April, the inspection staff has grown from 18 to 43 persons who actually visit the facilities.

Because of the computer program, these staff members have more time now for actual on-site inspections, and they are making more.

In the past, Bryant said, each of the long term care operations was visited by appointment, once each year, prior to relicensing. They seldom saw another inspector for the next 12 months.

Now, each of the 1,100-plus facilities in Illinois receives not only the in-depth relicensing inspection, but at least three other unannounced inspections.

The computer indicates when a home is to be visited, and gives a list of public aid recipients whose medical records are to be checked by a nurse under direction of a doctor, in compliance with federal regulations covering Medicare.

The nurses' findings on what medication a patient has taken against each other, and then prints out any discrepancies for the home operator to explain, if he can.

So far, six operators have been called up for formal hearings on violations charges, Bryant said, with five losing their licenses as a result.

The sixth corrected conditions' objected to, and is now operating in compliance with the rules, Bryant said.

Fifteen more simply went out of business when notified of pending formal hearings, indicating they could not or would not correct violations, and therefore were not going to keep their licenses.

The computer can also tell, Bryant said, who owns 10% or more of the stock in any long term care facilities, how many he owns stock in, and what violations have been alleged against any facility in the last three years.

It even writes its own letter, notifying operators of alleged violations and giving them 15 days to make corrections.

Schwendemann-Denny Nuptials in Missouri

The wedding of Miss Sharon Denny, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Denny, 7714 Snowden Ave., St. Louis, and David Schwendemann, 2249 Lee Ave., took place Nov. 27 at the Richmond Heights Presbyterian Church in Richmond Heights, Mo.

The Rev. Charles Markman officiated at the 8 o'clock evening ceremony.

White satin bows decorated the pews and lighted tapers in candelabra illuminated the sanctuary and altar.

H. A. Amelung sang "The Wedding Prayer" preceding a flute solo, "A Time for Us," played by Susan Haltsman.

The bridegroom's father read a chapter from I Corinthians prior to the pastor proclaiming the couple as husband and wife.

For her wedding, the bride chose an ivory white gown of her own design, featuring a round neckline and long sleeves set into a fitted bodice. Petals of lace, applied with pearls, formed the forward headpiece and secured a bouffant veil of silk illusion, floor length and bordered with delicate lace appliques.

The former Miss Denny carried an arrangement of white orchids and carnations created into a French-style bouquet.

Mrs. James Williams, a sister of the bride, matron of honor, and Miss Judy Kafka, Mrs. Timothy McCraigh and Miss Diane Schwendemann, sister of the groom, wore identical frocks of royal purple crepe.

Fashioned with Empire waists and long sleeves, the bodices were topped with boleros of crushed velvet. Triple bows of yellow net were worn on their hair and they held bouquets of yellow carnations.

The groom chose J. W. Wyatt as best man. Ernest Schwendemann, brother of the groom, Wayne Huddleston and Kendall Hopper were groomsmen.

Jim Williams of Dexter, Mo., and Wayne Schwendemann, the groom's brother, served as ushers and candlelighters.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Denny selected a floor length gown in a coral shade with long sleeves. Pearls and sequins applied on coral lace accented the neckline and waist.

The groom's mother, Mrs. Schwendemann, chose a powder blue full length gown designed with a lace bodice and long fitted sleeves. Both mothers wore white orchid corsages.

Immediately after the ceremony a reception was held in the church basement. The bride's sister, Miss Shirley Denny, presided at the guest book.

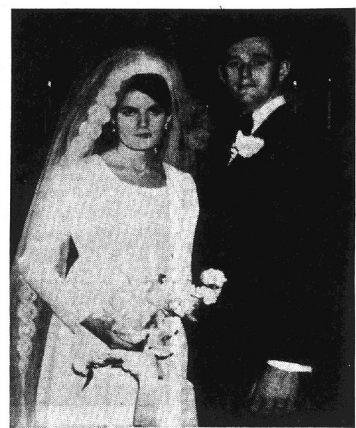

The rehearsal dinner was hosted Friday evening by Mr. and Mrs. Schwendemann at the Heritage House in St. Louis County.

The former Miss Denny is a graduate of Maplewood-Richmond Heights High School. Her husband was graduated in 1967 from Granite City High School.

'Bal de Tete' Concert Program Is Announced

Music Director Walter Susskind and Associate Conductor Leonard Slatkin will share conducting duties for the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra's concert portion of the "Bal de Tete," this year's Symphony Gala, to be held in Powell Symphony Hall at 8:45 p.m. Friday.

The first portion, to be conducted by Slatkin, will comprise the "Triumphal March" from Verdi's "Aida," Eugene Ormandy's transcription of Handel's "Concerto for Orchestra" in D major, and excerpts from Tchaikovsky's "Nutcracker" Suite.

Maestro Susskind will conduct the "Dream Pantomime" from Humperdinck's "Hansel and Gretel," Mozart's German Dance "The Sleigh Ride," two pieces by Johann Strauss—the "Champagne" Polka and "Perpetual Motion"—and Leroy Anderson's "Festival of Carols."

A "Bal de Tete" is so named because participants—both men and women—are invited to create imaginative headresses based on a central theme—in this case, a holiday theme—with prizes for most beautiful, most unusual and most amusing. Prizes will include a diamond necklace, a "surprise trip" for two and a collection of French wines and hors d'oeuvres.

Judges will be Charles Buckley, director of the City Art Museum, William Adair Bernoudy, architect, and Mary King Ulstrup, art critic.

Following the concert by the orchestra, there will be dancing on the stage and in the grand foyer, with a holiday supper, champagne and other refreshments. Tickets are still available at $25 per person, as are special patrons' tickets at $50 per person, which include a pre-gala supper at the University Club.

All proceeds from the event will go to support the orchestra's pension fund.

Tickets may be obtained from the Powell Symphony Hall box office, 718 North Grand Blvd. For information by telephone, the public may call Mrs. Anna Rice, ticket director, at 1-314-553-2500.

The recital will open with Grand Duo Concertant, Opus 48, by Carl Maria von Weber, followed by Sonata (1941-42) by Leonard Bernstein. After intermission, the audience will hear Quintet, Opus 16, by Beethoven.

Mellott, who came to SIU-SW in 1964 from Cumberland College in Kentucky, received his bachelor and master of education degrees from Eastern Illinois University and his master of fine arts and doctorate from the University of Iowa.

Principal clarinetist with the St. Louis Philharmonic, he has composed several works for woodwinds, orchestra and small ensembles. One of his works has been played twice by the St. Louis Orchestra.

A lot of Federal employees are going to be mad because we're raising their rates. They'd be a lot madder if we lowered their benefits.

If you're a Federal employee insured under our High Option Plan, your rates are going up. We had to raise them or we couldn't go on paying for all the services you need. Blue Cross and Blue Shield make sure you get the most comprehensive benefits available to Federal Employees. We could have reduced benefits. Instead we chose to raise our rates. So we can keep our benefits where they are. The best value in health care protection your money can buy. If you haven't used Blue Cross and Blue Shield yourself, ask anybody who has. Or better, get the Blue Cross and Blue Shield pamphlet from your personnel officer. Compare our benefits with the health care protection you now have or any you can think of. We think you'll agree with the choice we made.

Blue Cross. Blue Shield.

If you've got it, keep it. If you don't have it, get it.

A hearing on "Proposed Regulations for the Application of Plant Nutrients" will be held by the Illinois Pollution Control Board Friday, Dec. 10 at 10 a.m. in the St. Clair Room, University Center, SIU-SW.

This is one of a series of 10 similar hearings now being held in Illinois.

Purpose of the public hearing is to provide adequate opportunity for organizations, agencies, individuals, and agricultural scientists to present testimony about the proposed regulations.

The proposals if adopted would regulate the application of fertilizers and animal manure in Illinois.

After public hearings, the Pollution Control Board may dismiss the proposals, may accept the proposals with minor modifications, or may substantially alter the proposals either to make them more or less stringent.

The proposals set maximum rates for the application of fertilizer nitrogen for corn.

The application of fertilizer nitrogen to sandy soils in the fall would be prohibited except where a fall-seeded grass cover crop is grown.

The application of fertilizer nitrogen to the surface of frozen soils of more than five percent slope would be prohibited.

The application of fertilizer nitrogen in the fall would be prohibited unless crop residues are left on the surface or until specified soil temperature conditions exist.

The mechanical application of animal manure near than 40 rods to streams or lakes on frozen soils of more than five percent slope would be prohibited.

Domestic livestock would be excluded from streams and lakes except for limited access for watering or crossing.

The application of fertilizer phosphorus to frozen fields of more than five percent slope would be prohibited.

The application of phosphorus to soils with high organic matter would be restricted.

You may see a complete copy of the proposed regulations at the County Extension Office, 900 Hillsboro, Edwardsville. You are urged to attend the hearing and present your views about any of the proposals.

The ten highest producing herds in Madison County Dairy Herd Improvement in October are owned by Marvin Stille, Heepke Bros., Milton Hitz, Mrs. Freda Linenbroeker, George Dair, Vernon Becker, V & J Dairy Farm, Henry Zoelzer.

LEAVES FOR MULCH
Leaf disposal isn't a crisis when you make a compost, shred them with your lawn mower or spread them on your garden.

Fallen leaves quickly rot to become humus when you keep them wet and add a little fertilizer. This event occurs in your bulb and rose bed just as easily as part of your compost pile.

Fine textured leaves from Chinese elm, birch, ash, little leaf linden, etc., can be used without shredding or crushing. Coarse leaves from oak, sycamore, tulip popular and magnolia will decompose better when shredded.

Leaves can be quickly pulverized with your lawn mower when piled in a driveway or street. If you plan to save leaves for late season mulching these pulverized leaves seem well suited for storage in plastic trash can liners.

Immediately water down the leaves to prevent scattering by the wind and start the composting process. Scatter 2 pounds of leaves in the grass gradually per 100 square feet of mulched area to speed up the rotting.

Pulverizing leaves on your lawn mower will dispose of the leaves without hurting your grass. The fine particles of leaves in the grass gradually rot as rain and fertilizer combine to produce compost.

WATER AND WINTER
Fall rains restore the water supply of the soil for fall growth and winter survival of shrubs and trees.

A three month drought is producing a serious threat to evergreens and shrubs by threatening winter survival. Dry soils are delaying fall maturity and resistance to winter-kill. A continued drought will cause severe winter-burn. Immediate rains or deep watering is necessary to promote the final stages of fall growth and winter survival.

Fall growth results in maturing of flower buds and small twigs for next years bloom as well as the ripening of the limbs and crown to increase resistance to cold temperatures.

Midwestern drought results in winter burn when bright sunshine and winter winds dries the leaves and twigs while the roots are in dry soil.

Evergreens, small shrubs and ground covers are hardest hit by a fall and winter drought. Their shallow roots and competition with nearby trees is contributing to severe stress. Dry sub-soil is creating a crisis for larger shrubs and small trees.

Weekly watering is recommended to promote gradual wetting of the sub-soil layers and build up a reserve for winter.

PIN OAK AND SWEET GUM
Pin Oak and Sweet Gum will not thrive in soils which are heavily limed.

Both pin oak and sweet gum turn yellow and gradually die when the pH of the soil changes to neutral or becomes alkaline. Most of the soil in this area is moderately acid. If we change the acidity by adding lime we can kill an existing tree or produce a situation where new trees cannot prosper.

Pin oaks are more sensitive to the problem than sweet gums. Pin oak will begin to develop a light green color and gradually decline when the pH of the soil is above 6.2. Sweet gum will grow until the pH rises above 6.6. pH is a measure of soil acidity with figures below 7.0 designating more acid while above 7.0 designating more alkaline reactions.

Adding lime to turf causes a gradual rise in the pH of your soil. Natural areas of high pH occur in some rolling areas in Belleville, Collinsville and Alton.

Whether the soil has been

"limed" or the tree is planted in a naturally alkaline location, soil tests always show the pH level is above these critical readings.

At present we have no "sure cure" for this problem. The high pH reduces available supply of iron in the soil, injecting soluble iron in the soil sometimes helps. Spraying the foliage with special formulas containing iron help but do not add enough to maintain good growth.

Weekly watering is recommended to promote gradual wetting of the sub-soil layers and build up a reserve for winter.

CHOOSE VELVET FOR HOLIDAY FASHIONS

Velvet with its rich appearance and luxurious texture lends itself to elegant holiday fashions.

All velvets are pile fabrics. Most velvets are made from crushed velvet, cut velvet, uncut velvet and panne.

As the name implies, crushed velvet is fabric with the pile crushed in all directions. As a result, light reflects differently on the surfaces, creating light and dark color effects.

Cut velvet consists of a broad-based pattern of velvet on a woven background.

Uncut velvet is woven in a single layer with uncut warp loops.

Panne velvet has the pile most velvet is made from synthetic fibers finished to make the fabric crush-resistant as well as spot-and-water-repellent.

Traditionally, velvet was made of silk. Today, however, most velvets are made from synthetic fibers finished to make the fabric crush-resistant as well as spot-and-water-repellent.

Many women who sew find velvet difficult to handle. Follow these tips for sewing velvet:

Choose patterns with simple design lines and top-stitching will not be effective in pile fabrics, so avoid designs that call for a lot of stitching.

Fit the pattern carefully before you cut the garment. Stitch marks may show if seams or darts need to be removed and adjusted.

Before cutting, decide on the direction the pile should run. If it runs up the color will be rich, but color change during wear may be more obvious than if the pile runs down. Check direction of the pile by running your hand over the fabric. It will feel smooth when you move in the direction of the pile. Be sure to lay all pattern pieces the same way.

Pin the pattern pieces to the wrong side of the fabric. Pins cause you can insert pins more easily in the backing.

Cut one layer at a time if the fabric is thick. Small patches of thick fabric are difficult to cut in thick fabric, and mark the wrong side of the fabric with chalk or pencil.

Cut facings from lighter-weight fabric that matches or blends in color and has similar fiber content.

Use scraps of fabric to test for the most suitable stitch length, tension and pressure. In general, a small to medium-sized needle—11 to 14—and a stitch length of 10 to 12 per inch work best.

Hand-baste or pin-baste pieces together before you machine. Because of thickness, velvet fabrics tend to slip as they are stitched. After stitching, slash and trim darts if they are wide.

Press velvet with the pile down on a heavy bath towel or piece of fabric itself. A special board with a needle-like surface is excellent for pressing velvet but it is expensive.

Never touch the iron to the right side of pile fabrics. When pressing seams, use strips of brown paper between seam edges and fabric to avoid making impressions on the right side of the fabric.

Choose closures carefully. Fully bound buttonholes are difficult to make in pile fabrics and machine buttonholes are difficult to make in pile fabrics and machine buttonholes don't work well. Use loops, hooks, metal buckles or fake buttonholes, depending on the garment design. Put regular zippers in by hand or use the new hidden zippers.

Hem edges may be stay-stitched one-quarter inch from the edge and left unfinished. If the fabric frays badly, finish the edge with seam binding.

The hem should be held to the garment by hand stitches taken loosely between the upper edge of the hem and the garment.

To finish seams, use zigzag stitching one-eighth inch from the raw edge, or any other finished that controls fraying.

BASIC TIPS ON COOKING—Your cooking habits are an important consideration in food safety.

Pork and poultry should always be cooked thoroughly, but don't overcook and reduce palatability. Use meat thermometer as guide. Fresh pork—170 to 185 degrees.

The pink color of some fresh pork cuts (even though the meat is well done) comes from a chemical reaction of the oven gases with the meat. Both gas and electric ovens will cause this reaction. A meat thermometer is the best way to check the pork for the right internal temperature.

If you start cooking your meat and poultry direct from the freezer, allow extra time for complete cooking—and rely on your meat thermometer.

Meat and poultry should be cooked completely at one time; never partially cooked to be finished later.

If you're using stuffing or dressing, cook it in a separate dish instead of in the bird. Don't stuff poultry and then refrigerate or freeze it.

When reheating brot or gravy it should be brought to a full rolling boil for several minutes.

All leftovers should be heated thoroughly.

Meat and poultry should be cooked at low to moderate temperatures so as to have less shrinkage and keep the meat tender and juicy.

SHOPPING FOR BEST CREDIT—When buying a home, you'll probably need a mortgage loan to finance your purchase. So shop around to get the best mortgage credit available.

In addition, be sure your mortgage loan contract permits you to repay the loan in a faster rate. Then if your family's financial situation improves, you can make larger payments and pay off the debt earlier, also cutting the interest cost.

BUYING A SUEDE COAT—Suede leather coats are a fashion "in" this fall and winter, but many women feel too lacking in knowledge to make a wise choice.

If you are considering such a purchase you might check the following:

—Skins should be nearly the same thickness throughout. Since suede skins were once part of an animal, there will be thick and thin areas depending on which part of the animal the skin came from. Also the animal may have been injured in some time and there will be evidence of scars. However damaged areas should be few.

—The nap of suede should run in the same direction in all pieces of the garment.

—The stitches for seams, darts and top-stitching should be long. Short, closely spaced stitches can cause suede to rip at the line of stitching. In well-made suede garments, a tape will be stitched with the seams for reinforcing at points of strain.

—The hem will be held in place with rubber cement.

—Machine or bound buttonholes should be well-made.

—The garment should fit properly because alterations are almost impossible to make. Needle holes from machine stitching remain permanently.

STAGE HOME FIRE DRILLS—Now that the chills of fall in the air, increased fire hazards from furnaces and heaters make a planned fire escape routine a good practice for your family.

Home fire drills, if regularly carried out, can help reduce panic in the event of a fire in your home.

Here are a few rules to follow for safety:

—Make sure each family member knows at least two escapes from every room.

—Since doors provide a barrier from fire, sleep with the door closed. And teach children not to open hot doors since they usually indicate a fire.

—Show children how to crawl on the floor to avoid rising gases.

—Know how to remove screens and storm windows quickly.

—Train everyone to vacate the house the minute you notice smoke or fire. Don't waste time dressing or saving valuables.

—Never re-enter a burning house.

$600 Nursing Award
Given SIU-SW Student

Diana Newton of Catlin, a senior nursing student at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern, has been awarded a $600 nursing scholarship. The award was presented by W. H. May, executive director of the Illinois Health Improvement Association.

"We chose Diana," May explained, "because she best fit the specifications of this scholarship and because she is from a rural area. We want to encourage young men and women going to rural areas."

Miss Newton, who will graduate in June, plans to work a year for a public health agency in Illinois and go into graduate work in this field.

"I have always wanted to be a nurse," she says. "I came to SIU-SW because I like this area."

Miss Newton's clinical experience while at SIUE has been at the Veterans Administration and Cardinal Glennon Hospital in St. Louis, Scott Air Force Base Hospital and Christian Welfare Hospital in East St. Louis.

Last summer she worked at Wohl Clinic in St. Louis where, she says, "my interest in public health peaked. I worked mainly with maternity and child health

Station Wagon Stolen

A 1965 blue station wagon, owned by Norman Stawar, 1648 Fourth St., Madison, was stolen from his home during the night, he reported at 8:30 a.m. Tuesday. The vehicle has a trailer hitch on the rear and a large letter "M" on the back window. A drill press mounting bench in the rear seat also was taken.

Purse Stolen From Auto

Sherry Stefanoff, 126 Wilson Park Lane, reported at 8:30 p.m. Monday that her purse was stolen from the seat of her auto, parked at 903 Kirkpatrick Homes. The purse was found by police nearby with the contents intact except for $9.40.

Fence Struck by Car

Johnnie Williams, 325 Short St., Venice, told police Monday that a hit-and-run vehicle had struck and damaged a fence at his home.

Expectant mothers came to Wohl for their prenatal examinations, and I also had the opportunity of visiting in the homes of these mothers and children."

Miss Newton is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Newton of Catlin.

Regional Report -- Offensive Is Launched for an Illinois Airport; Horseshoe Lake State Park Gaining Momentum

(Illinois Metro East Industrial Development Corporation)

The St. Louis Metropolitan Area Airport Authority, developers of the proposed Columbia-Waterloo area airport, have taken the offensive this week.

The amendment filed with the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council included an Environmental Impact Statement, which details why the Authority believes the Illinois site is better than others suggested in Missouri: application for 50% federal matching funds to spend $16.8 million to begin buying land and to pay initial relocation, appraisal and legal costs; and a formal request to the Federal Aviation Administration to approve the proposed site.

The East-West Gateway Council will hand down an opinion on the proposal at a special meeting slated for Dec. 15.

In related news, the Missouri Division of Commerce and Industrial Development filed notice with East-West Gateway of its intent to seek $15 million in federal funds for planning and land acquisition for a 12,000-acre airport either at Smartt Field or in the Dardenne area, both in St. Charles County.

And St. Louis Comptroller John H. Poelker urged proponents of a new metropolitan airport to begin obtaining options on land at all possible sites without waiting for a decision from the FAA on which site is best.

Average weekly earnings for workers in manufacturing industries showed a slight advance for October in the metropolitan area, according to the U. S. Bureau of Labor Statistics.

About 1,100 production workers remained off the job at the Castings Division plant of General Steel Industries in Granite City. Approximately 800 members of Local 1022 of the United Steelworkers Union struck at midnight Nov. 19. The 300 other workers observing the picket line are members of other unions. The contract between Local 1022 and the company expired Nov. 1 but had been extended until Nov. 19. Negotiations meetings were scheduled by the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service.

A start on the development of the Horseshoe Lake area east of Granite City as a state park, long a dream for the St. Louis metropolitan area, will be possible through a federal grant announced last week.

Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie said $682,500 had been approved for the project by the Bureau of Outdoor Recreation.

The first phase of the development plan includes acquisition of 1,355 acres of the lake and shore area. Horseshoe Lake is the largest lake in the metropolitan area and is one of the large-est natural bodies of water in this section of the country.

In other news of park development, a committee of the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council has recommended council endorsement of a request for $135,000 in federal funds for improvements to Frank Hotten State Park near Centerville.

The decision was made after discussion of the impact that plans to extend Interstate 255 through the park would have on the proposed improvements.

The Illinois Department of Conservation will match the federal funds and use the money to upgrade existing roads and add new ones; repair buildings; and add garden plots, play courts and splash pools to the rundown, 1,125-acre state park.

In construction news, J. Kevin Havelka, vice-president of Chevy Chase Investments, Inc., Edwardsville, announced that construction of a $1 million apartment complex on nine acres north of East State Street in O'Fallon is expected to start within two weeks.

Despite the refusal of trustees of the East Side Levee and Sanitary District to issue a required permit, work on the site of a second Granite City High School is continuing.

Dr. John Rendleman, president of Southern Illinois University-Southwestern, has advised the SIU Board of Trustees that the plans are proceeding for construction of on-campus housing for 1,000 additional single students. He indicated construction might begin in 1972, with completion a year later.

In general area news, zoning reclassifications were granted for an airplane landing strip in Caseyville and an apartment complex in Fairview Heights by the St. Clair County Zoning Board of Appeals.

Two contracts, totaling more than $13 million, have been awarded for construction in this region on Interstate 64.

Prof. John R. Rider, chairman of the mass communications faculty and director of Broadcasting Service at SIU-SW, has been elected president of the St. Louis chapter of the National Association of Television Arts and Sciences.

Dr. Boyd Mitchell has been appointed full-time superintendent of Alton Community Unit School District 11, and Guy Haltenhof of Columbia has been elected president of the East St. Louis Board of Realtors.
